Beef Concern Sold To Independents; Plan to Expand

A real estate and business transaction which is reported to have involved a consideration of over $100,000 took place yesterday when the Kingston Dressed Beef Company on Hurley avenue extension was sold to the Independent Meat Dealers Co-operatives, Inc., said to be the largest independent meat packing concern in New York City.

Possession was taken by the new owners today. The plant, formerly the Parnett premises, is a federally inspected place and is fully equipped for slaughtering, dressing and marketing of meat. The plant includes a modern refrigeration plant and a considerable acreage.

Kingston Dressed Beef Company was represented at the transaction by Arthur B. Ewig of the law firm of Cashin and Ewig while the purchaser was represented by Sam Morgenroth of New York City.

The Kingston Dressed Beef Company has been engaged in slaughtering and sale of beef, most of the produce from the plant being sold in New York City. Recently the company has been slaughtering over 200 western beef each week, which after being dressed was sold to New York City consumers. Members of the partnership were William Greenwald, Irving Adelsberg and Frank Libidinsky. A fourth member of the partnership, Abraham Avreen, recently died.

Under the new management the plant will continue to operate as in the past and plans are being made for expanding the facilities.

Brooklyn Native Is Held for Acts On Girl's Report

Norman Gunderud Is Held for Grand Jury; Is Arrested Following Investigation

Norman Gunderud, 22, alias Harry Robert Gunderud, a native of Brooklyn, but at one time a resident of the town of Saugerties, is being held in the Ulster county jail to await action of the grand jury on charges of burglary, first degree assault, and attempted rape following his arrest in New York Tuesday by Sergeant Arthur Reilly and Trooper Rock from the Lake Katrine barracks.

Gunderud was held for grand jury action by Justice Charles Sikes of Saugerties following a plea of not guilty.

The charges against Gunderud date back to an incident which took place at 3:30 o'clock on the morning of April 25, at a High Woods home where two young women were allegedly assaulted by a strange man who entered their bedroom shortly after they had turned in for the night.

The girls were notified of the matter the following morning when the girls went to a neighbor's and told of their experience. They had been too frightened immediately after the incident to leave the house and had feared that they would go out on the road to notify the authorities they might be again attacked by the stranger.

Sergeant Reilly said that he had been called on the morning of April 25 by the two young women who related their story, but were unable to give the Troopers any clue as to the man. Both girls stated they had never before seen the man and although they were able to give an accurate description of the man, they could not further aid the Troopers.

Awakened at 3:30 A. M.

The two young women, whose names were not revealed, told Sergeant Reilly that they had retired about midnight. About 3:30 o'clock they were awakened by a man in their bedroom. The man was attired only in a shirt.

Badly frightened the two young women fought with their assailant and finally managed to evade him from the premises. Outside the house they saw him pick up his clothing and he then returned to the house and demanded they give him his shoes which he said he had left in the bedroom. A search in the room and they were returned to the man who then left.

Working on the description which the young women had supplied, the Troopers began a search on Tuesday went to New York. Numerous persons had been questioned and on a clue which brought out Gunderud. They found he was a member of the merchant marine and was about to ship out. He was questioned and this morning

Union President Says Wage Talks Fail; Work Continues Meanwhile

Electrol employees affiliated with Ulster County Lodge, 1562, International Association of Machinists, voted unanimously yesterday to apply to the United States Conciliation Service for permission to conduct a strike ballot at the Grand street plant.

The action followed a complete breakdown in wage increase negotiations between labor and management, President Joseph Murphy, of the I.A.M. affiliate, announced today.

Work will proceed as usual, President Murphy said, and if an agreement is effected before the May 30 deadline expires, the strike ballot automatically will be rescinded.

Negotiations had been conducted on the basis of a union request for a 20 per cent wage increase. Electrol's counter proposal was a five per cent boost.

Will Send Conciliator

The 30-day cooling-off period required by federal law will end on May 30. In the meantime, the I.A.M. request will be transmitted to the Labor Department which will send a federal conciliator to Kingston in an effort to effect a settlement of the wage dispute.

If the federal conciliator is unable to bring the opposing factions together, the I.A.M. employees, 130 in all, will proceed with the official strike ballot supervised by the National Labor Relations Board.

The union action followed a lengthy meeting that began at noon yesterday, when all I.A.M. members quit work. Management's counter proposal was transmitted to the group by E. F. Huner, director of industrial relations at Electrol.

Union Did Not Recede

Although it had been reported that the union would recede from its original demands for a 20 per cent increase, management has not the case yesterday, President Murphy reported.

"There was absolutely no change in the situation," Murphy announced after the meeting. "We are sticking to our original demands for a 20 per cent pay hike, while management has declined to change its figures."

Asked if he thought negotiations might be resumed prior to the arrival of the federal conciliator, Murphy said there was a possibility this could happen.

The request for a wage boost affected every member of the I.A.M. group. The current wage scales and the increases requested were not available.

Moscow Witnesses Colorful May Day; Stalin Has Message

Moscow, May 1 (AP)—A colorful demonstration by hundreds of Moscow's workers and a long parade by soldiers, sailors and airmen, advised by Generalissimo Stalin, took to the streets for a minute "the intrigues of international reaction which is hatching plans of a new war," marked the Soviet Union's observance of May Day today.

Although the Soviet leader gave first place in his order of the day to "our valiant armed forces," he told his people:

"There is no reason to doubt that in the future the Soviet Union will be true to its policy—the policy of peace and security, the policy of equality and friendship of the peoples."

Stalin exhorted the Russian armed forces to remain strong and increase their effectiveness by lessons learned from the war "on the basis of development of science and technique," but it was noted that the traditional military parade before Lenin's

May Day Threat Is Made to Back Demands for Leftist Setup in Government

Assembly Gathers One Block From Allied Headquarters

Tokyo, May 1 (AP)—Organized labor used its occupation won freedom to voice a May Day threat of a general strike to support its demand for a leftist government.

Meantime, Japanese police and American forces searched for the fanatic accused of having plotted to assassinate General MacArthur at the height of today's celebration by an estimated 400,000 Japanese in front of the Imperial Palace.

It was Japan's first May Day celebration in 11 years and it passed quietly without a single reported act of violence.

Socialist Kanju Kato, in a labor committee conference with Premier Shidehara, said a nationwide walkout might be called if a single party cabinet was formed by the rightist Liberals. The Liberal party won 139 Diet seats in the recent election but failed to gain a majority.

"The people may rise against it," Kato told the premier. "This might take the form of a general strike. In that case, who is going to take the responsibility—you?" Shidehara, who resigned his cabinet nine days ago in an election aftermath, agreed to listen to the committee's demands—some voiced angrily—but declined to comment.

400,000 Attend Assembly

The conference followed the assembly which the American post marshal estimated attracted 400,000 Japanese. The crowd, gathered just a block from MacArthur's headquarters, waved red banners, sang, and heard speeches demanding rights for workers.

Then it dispersed in the rain to march through various sections of the capital while Kato's group went to confer with Shidehara. Armed American soldiers circulated through the crowd, looking for Hideo Tokayama, accused by MacArthur's headquarters of having plotted to kill him with grenades and pistols at the height of today's celebration. An informant now in America custody told MacArthur's aides of the plot.

MacArthur's military secretary and officers in his counter-intelligence and criminal investigation divisions reported in mid-afternoon that there were "no developments" in the plotter search and that they had no reports of any arrests.

Tonight, Capt. Michael Frisch, Ithaca, N. Y., chief of the criminal investigation division, said a suspect had been taken into custody but "he is not the man we are looking for."

Is Under Surveillance

The informant remained under surveillance but reports were told he was "unavailable" for interview.

In Osaka, the country's second largest city, 50,000 gathered in a drizzle to demand minimum wages based on living costs, increased food ration for workers, participation in management, and establishment of democratic people's front.

Stony Hollow Seaman Has Multiple Burns, Navy Informs His Parents

Raymond Frank Winne, 18, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Winne of Stony Hollow, is on the critical list at Fort Monmouth Hospital where he was taken following an explosion aboard the destroyer escort Solar yesterday where ammunition was being unloaded at an ammunition dump on Sandy Hook Bay.

Seaman Winne, according to a notice sent his parents last night, is suffering from "multiple burns," and was reported as in a critical condition. Mr. and Mrs. Winne on receipt of the notice from the Navy Department talked with the Red Cross and later learned that several of the injured would be transferred to a New York hospital today. This morning before leaving for New York, they were waiting to learn whether their son was among those to be transferred.

Enlisted in 1945

Winne enlisted in the navy for a three-year term on September 4, 1945, prior to his 18th birthday. He was assigned to the Solar at the time the destroyer escort was launched at Boston in March.

Recently Seaman Winne was sent to the Little Creek, Virginia, naval base where he attended coxswain school and on completion of the course he rejoined the Solar Saturday at New York.

Ray Winne, father of Seaman Winne, for several years was connected with the sheriff's office as a deputy sheriff and is well known throughout the county.

Ship Is Total Loss

Earle, N. J., May 1 (AP)—The destroyer escort Solar, its bow ripped off and twisted grotesquely over the 300-foot warship by the force of three explosions, lay blackened and a total loss today alongside the U. S. Navy's huge Earle Ammunition Depot pier in lower New York Bay.

Five crew members were reported missing and 150 injured, five critically, in the explosion yesterday which detonated an ammunition-laden railroad car on the pier, destroyed a pier-based warehouse, set fire to the pier itself and left a gaping hole in the concrete structure which jutted two and a half miles into the bay.

The Third Naval District Public Information Office in New York said the next of kin of those missing and badly injured were notified during the night, and a casualty list would be released today.

In addition to the five missing, five others today were considered in critical condition, and 30 more seriously injured.

Thirty-five persons were in civilian hospitals in the area, and 109 Navy men and 25 civilians were under observation and treatment at the Navy dispensary at Earle.

A Navy investigating board, headed by Admiral Paul F. Foster, Navy inspector general, began an immediate probe of the disaster. An official statement by the U. S. Navy Third District Public Relations Office said cause of the blasts was unknown.

The explosions occurred in rapid-fire order shortly before noon yesterday.

British Physicist Gets 10 Years; Gave A-Bomb Report

Dr. Alan May Is Convicted of Violating Official Secrets Act; Defense Lawyer Says May Accused, British Offered

London, May 1 (AP)—Dr. Alan Nunn May was sentenced today to 10 years in prison for violating the British Official Secrets Act by disclosing restricted information, which his attorney said went to Soviet Russia, and concerned atomic energy.

May is a British physicist who worked on nuclear research in Canada during the war in the successful effort of the United States, Britain and Canada to create the atomic bomb.

He Pleaded Guilty

The 34-year-old May, who was arrested last March, was specifically accused of communicating "to some person unknown certain information calculated to be, or which might be directly or indirectly, useful to any enemy."

The "enemy" was not specified, the prosecution declaring merely that it might be "any potential enemy."

His arrest, however, followed closely the launching of a Canadian investigation into alleged Soviet espionage activities which Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King said extended through the dominion into the United States and Britain.

Several persons are under arrest in Canada in connection with that investigation.

Defense Counsel Gerald Gardiner, in asking clemency for May, said flatly that the information the defendant was accused of disclosing was given to the Russians and that at the time of the offense—in February, 1945—the government had offered all possible technical or economic assistance to Russia.

"Rightly or wrongly," Gardiner said, "Dr. May felt full indignation that these promises of technical assistance were made one hour and ignored the next."

His "Only Contribution" Gardiner told the court that

War Appointments Power Canceled

Civil Service Commission Says No More Positions Can Be Filled Thus

The authority granted appointing officers of the city government to make temporary or war appointments in the city service has been canceled, and applications for such appointments will no longer be approved, it was announced at the close of the meeting of the Municipal Civil Service Commission held Tuesday evening at the city hall.

The commission will begin at once, it was said, to announce the cancellation of the various examinations for probational and permanent appointments.

Promotional examinations for chief of police, captain of police, police lieutenants, police sergeants and competitive examinations for patrolmen will be held in the near future.

Examinations for other positions will be announced soon. Appointing officers, said the board, finding it necessary to fill positions prior to the holding of examinations for probational and permanent appointments may make appointments on a temporary basis in accordance with the Civil Service Rules and regulations. Such appointments, it was said, may only hold their positions until the new lists are established.

Employees holding temporary appointments to any position in the competitive class will be required to take an examination in order to be eligible for permanent appointment.

The new ruling of the board is effective May 10.

Mixed Reaction Reported on Plan

Washington, May 1 (AP)—An Anglo-American commission's recommendation for the immediate admission of 100,000 Jews to the British mandate of Palestine brought mixed reaction here and abroad today.

The White House reported comment received there is "in the main highly favorable." Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters, however, the reaction came primarily from Jewish organizations and individual Jews.

In Britain, Prime Minister Atlee told the House of Commons the problem of admitting so large a number of Jews to the Holy Land would "be very great."

Brooks Says Loan To Britain Like W.P.A. for World

Opponents in Senate Plan Parliamentary Move to Kill Legislation

By JACK BELL

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Senator Brooks (R., Ill.) announced to the Senate today he will vote against the $3,750,000,000 British loan, terming it a "world wide W. P. A. project that will lower our American standards of living."

The Illinois senator, a veteran of World War I, declared in a prepared speech that he expected to be called "anti-British."

"I am not pro-British," he said. "I am pro-American and I am proud of it."

Brooks' criticism of the loan legislation came as opponents planned a parliamentary move which they hoped might sweep the loan legislation out of the Senate without a vote on the bill itself.

Senator Brooks told his colleagues he was in "good company" in opposing the loan and said these had the same views:

"Jesse Jones, who loaned more money than any individual in history, Leo Crowley, able administrator of the Export-Import Bank, and Mr. (Bernard) Baruch, adviser to Presidents . . ."

"I don't question the right of the Russian people to live under and support their Communist form of government," Brooks concluded. "I do not question the right of the British people to adopt and sustain a Socialist form of government, but I do question the right of those entrusted to sustain our representative form of government to dissipate the resources of the American people to support Communist and Socialist systems abroad while weakening our representative government at home."

Tojo Says He Will Face War Tribunal Without Remorse

Tokyo, May 1 (AP)—Hideki Tojo, insisted today from his prison cell that Japan fought "a war of self protection" and indicated he would face the International War Crimes Tribunal with no remorse.

In an exclusive, written interview through his principal Japanese attorney—Ichiro Kiyose—the one-time dictator made his first statements on the war since the occupation.

Tojo acknowledged that he had spoken against Japan's surrender—proposing continued resistance—but denied that he had taken any direct action to forcibly prevent the emperor's surrender.

"Th- bald, stern little man declared he would "express my whole opinion" in court but dodged a question whether he intended to condemn American leaders while presenting his defense.

He said that if, in 1941, Japan could have taken any other way than war "as an independent country I would have taken it."

He repeated Japan's favorite propaganda, faith in an Asiatic coprosperity sphere, indicating clearly that he would rest a considerable part of his defense on the "righteousness" of Japan's war.

Kiyose visited the former premier 30 minutes today and reported him "in good health and good spirits." The trial may be held in June.

Tojo, writing his answers to 10 questions in clear, bold characters, declared:

"We did not want to invade any oriental countries. I thought this was a war to emancipate oriental countries from foreign influences and enjoy a coprosperity sphere of freedom and equality."

"But during the war, in order to complete it, we could not refrain from using natural resources (of the occupied areas) and imposing severe restrictions on the people's rights."

Russian Raps Plan At Session

Byrnes Retorts Idea Is No More Wrong Than Treaty; Austria Loses Tyrol

Recess Is Rejected

Russian Loses His Bid to Shut Down Talks on May Day

Paris, May 1 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov and U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes clashed in the question of the future Allied control of Italy today as the Foreign Minister's Council turned thumbs down on Austria's plea for return of the southern Tyrol by Italy.

A qualified conference source said the Soviet minister sharply opposed Byrnes' proposal for a single general commission to supervise the carrying out of the Italian treaty provisions on the ground that it would be an infringement of Italian sovereignty.

Byrnes was said to have retorted that there was no more of an infringement than the treaty itself.

Molotov reversed the Soviet policy followed at last September's Council meeting at which the Russians voted with their colleagues to set up only military control commissions.

At this morning's session, over which Byrnes presided, Molotov came out in favor of no commission at all.

The ministers were discussing the last of 11 points of disagreement over the Italian treaty.

Foreign Ministers of the Big Four entangled in debate on Italian boundary issues today scheduled twice-a-day sessions to cope with the increasing number of knotty problems facing them for settlement.

Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov was voted down, three to one, on a proposal to recess today—May Day, an important holiday on the Soviet Union—and the ministers decided instead to redouble their efforts to reach peace agreements.

The ministers clashed sharply yesterday on two Italian border questions, with Russia supporting a Yugoslav demand for Trieste and most of the Istrian peninsula against the opposition of Britain, France and the United States; and opposing an Austrian request for annexation of the South Tyrol.

Took Austria's Part

U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, seconded by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, took Austria's part with a suggestion that the conference consider as "minor" the border rectifications involved in Vienna's demand for return of South Tyrol.

Conference informants said that in previous discussions of the Italian-Austrian frontier the ministers had agreed that there would be no "major" changes in the Austrian border, but yesterday's argument arose on the question of whether the Tyrol revision was "major" or "minor."

Over Molotov's vigorous objections, the question was referred to the ministers' deputies for study and report. Bevin and Byrnes insisted that an Austrian representative be summoned to present Austria's side of the matter.

Conference sources said there were several sharp exchanges on the snarled Italian-Yugoslav border issue before the ministers finally agreed, at Molotov's insistence, that two Italian and two Yugoslav representatives be heard on the question Friday, thus postponing any decision until that time.

Molotov also demanded that the Adriatic port of Trieste be taken from Italy and turned over to Yugoslavia. He said Russia had received a request from Marshal Tito to be heard on the whole Italian border question.

Meanwhile, the American proposal for a four-power, quadripartite mutual assistance pact to insure German disarmament was being widely discussed by the delegations. Observers commented that such a treaty would permit American, British and French inspectors to survey factories and laboratories throughout the Russian occupation zone in eastern Germany.

Seaman Winne, according to a notice sent his parents last night, is suffering from "multiple burns" and was reported as in a critical condition. Mr. and Mrs. Winne on receipt of the notice from the Navy Department talked with the Red Cross and later learned that several of the injured would be transferred to a New York hospital today.

This morning before leaving for New York, they were waiting to learn whether their son was among those to be transferred.

Enlisted in 1945

Winne enlisted in the navy for a three-year term on September 1, 1945, prior to his 18th birthday. He was assigned to the Solar at the time the destroyer escort was launched at Boston in March.

Recently Seaman Winne was sent to the Little Creek, Virginia, naval base where he attended Coxswain school and on completion of the course he rejoined the Solar Saturday at New York.

Ray Winne, father of Seaman Winne, for several years was connected with the sheriff's office as a deputy sheriff and is well known throughout the county.

Ship Is Total Loss

Earle, N. J., May 1 (AP)—The destroyer escort Solar, its bow ripped off and twisted grotesquely over the 306-foot warship by the force of three explosions, lay blackened and a total loss today alongside the U. S. Navy's huge Earle Ammunition Depot pier in lower New York bay.

Five crew members were reported missing and 150 injured, five critically, in the explosion yesterday which detonated an ammunition-laden railroad car on the pier, destroyed a pier-based warehouse, set fire to the pier itself and left a gaping hole in the concrete structure which juts two and a half miles into the bay.

The Third Naval District Public Information Office in New York said the next of kin of those missing and badly injured were notified during the night, and a casualty list would be released today.

In addition to the five missing, five others today were considered in critical condition, and 30 more seriously injured.

Thirty-five persons were in civilian hospitals in the area, and 109 Navy men and 25 civilians were under observation and treatment at the Navy Ammunition Depot at Earle.

A Navy investigating board, headed by Admiral Paul F. Foster, Navy inspector general, began an immediate probe of the disaster. An official statement by the U. S. Navy Third District Public Relations Office said cause of the blast was unknown.

The explosions occurred in rapid-fire order shortly before noon yesterday.

British Physicist Gets 10 Years; Gave A-Bomb Report

Dr. Alan May Is Convicted of Violating Official Secrets Act; Defense Lawyer Says May Accused, British Offered

London, May 1 (AP)—Dr. Alan Nunn May was sentenced today to 10 years in prison for violating the British Official Secrets Act by disclosing restricted information, which his attorney said went to Soviet Russia, and concerned atomic energy.

May is a British physicist who worked on nuclear research in Canada during the war in the successful effort of the United States, Britain and Canada to create the atomic bomb.

He pleaded guilty.

The 34-year-old May, who was arrested last March, was specifically accused of communicating "to some person unknown certain information calculated to be, or which might be directly or indirectly, useful to any enemy."

The "enemy" was not specified, the prosecution declaring merely that it might be "any potential enemy."

His arrest, however, followed closely the launching of a Canadian investigation into alleged Soviet espionage activities which Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King said extended through the dominion into the United States and Britain.

Several persons are under arrest in Canada in connection with that investigation.

Defense Counsel Gerald Gardiner, in asking clemency for May, said that the information the defendant was accused of disclosing was given to the Russians and that at the time of the offense—in February, 1945—the British government had offered all possible technical or economic assistance to Russia.

"Rightly or wrongly," Gardiner said, "Dr. May felt full indignation that these promises of technical assistance were made one hour and ignored the next."

His "Only Contribution" Gardiner told the court that

Tojo Says He Will Face War Tribunal Without Remorse

Tokyo, May 1 (AP)—Hideki Tojo insisted today from his prison cell that Japan fought "a war of self protection" and indicated he would face the International War Crimes Tribunal with no remorse.

In an exclusive, written interview through his principal Japanese attorney—Ichiro Kiyose—the one-time dictator made his first statements on the war since the occupation.

Tojo acknowledged that he had spoken against Japan's surrender, proposing continued resistance, but denied that he had taken any direct action to forcibly prevent the emperor's surrender.

The bold, stern little man declared he would "express my whole opinion in court but dodged a question whether he intended to condemn American leaders while presenting his defense."

He said that if, in 1941, Japan could have taken any other way than war "as an independent country I would have taken it."

Brooks Says Loan To Britain Like W.P.A. for World

Opponents in Senate Plan Parliamentary Move to Kill Legislation

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Senator Brooks (R., Ill.) announced to the Senate today he will vote against the $3,750,000,000 British loan, terming it a "world wide W. P. A. project that will lower our American standards of living."

The Illinois senator, a veteran of World War I, declared in a prepared speech that he expected to be called "anti-British," he said.

"I am pro-American and I am proud of it."

Brooks' criticism of the loan legislation came as opponents planned a parliamentary move which they hoped might sweep the loan legislation out of the Senate without a vote on the bill itself.

Senator Brooks told his colleagues he was in "good company" in opposing the loan and said these had the same views:

"Jesse Jones, who loaned more money than any individual in history, Leo Crowley, able administrator of the Export-Import Bank, and Mr. (Bernard) Baruch, adviser to Presidents . . ."

"I don't question the right of the Russian people to live under and support their Communist form of government," Brooks concluded. "I do not question the right of the British people to adopt and sustain a Socialist form of government, but I do question the right of those entrusted to sustain our representative form of government to dissipate the resources of the American people to support Communist and Socialist systems abroad while weakening our representative government at home."

The parliamentary attack in the

Russian Raps Plan At Session

Byrnes Retorts Idea Is No More Wrong Than Treaty; Austria Loses Tyrol

Recess Is Rejected

Russian Loses His Bid to Shut Down Talks on May Day

Paris, May 1 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov and U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, clashed in the question of the future Allied control of Italy today as the Foreign Minister's Council turned thumbs down on Austria's plea for return of the southern Tyrol by Italy.

A qualified conference source said the Soviet minister sharply opposed Byrnes' proposal for a single general commission to supervise the carrying out of the Italian treaty provisions on the ground that it would be an infringement of Italian sovereignty.

Byrnes was said to have retorted it was no more of an infringement than the treaty itself.

Molotov reversed the Soviet policy followed at last September's Council meeting at which the Russians voted with their colleagues to set up only military control commissions.

At this morning's session, over which he presided, Molotov came out in favor of no commission at all.

The ministers were discussing the last of 11 points of disagreement over the Italian treaty.

Foreign Ministers of the Big Four, entangled in debate on Italian boundary issues, today scheduled twice-a-day sessions to cope with the increasing number of knotty problems facing them for settlement.

Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov was voted down, three to one, on a proposal to recess today—May Day, an important holiday in the Soviet Union—and the ministers decided instead to redouble their efforts to reach peace agreements.

The ministers clashed sharply yesterday on two Italian border questions, with Russia supporting a Yugoslav demand for Trieste and most of the Istrian peninsula against the opposition of Britain, France and the United States; and opposing an Austrian request for annexation of the South Tyrol.

Took Austria's Part
U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, seconded by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, took Austria's part with a suggestion that the conference consider as "minor" the border rectifications involved in Vienna's demand for return of South Tyrol.

Conference informants said that in previous discussions of the Italian-Austrian frontier the ministers had agreed that there would be no "major" changes in the Austrian border, but yesterday's argument arose on the question of whether the Tyrol revision was "major" or "minor."

Over Molotov's vigorous objections, the question was referred to the ministers' deputies for study and report. Bevin and Byrnes insisted that an Austrian representative be summoned to present Austria's side of the matter.

Conference sources said there were several sharp exchanges on the snarled Italian-Yugoslav border issue before the ministers finally agreed, at Molotov's insistence, that two Italian and two Yugoslav representatives be heard on the question Friday, thus postponing any decision until that time.

Molotov also demanded that the Adriatic port of Trieste be taken from Italy and turned over to Yugoslavia. He said Russia had received a request from Marshal Tito to be heard on the whole Italian border question.

Meanwhile, the American proposal for a four-power, quarter-century mutual assistance pact, being widely discussed by the delegations. Observers commented that such a treaty would permit American, British and French inspectors to survey factories and laboratories throughout the German occupation zone in eastern Germany.

of plugging a loophole which they fear may give foreign powers access to the secrets of some of the country's most guarded military weapons.

Chairman Eastland (D., Miss.), who heads a judiciary subcommittee examining the question, outlined the situation this way: A foreign government under present law apparently can contract with American manufacturers for non-secret component parts of secret devices, next arrange for industrial training of its own technicians here, then combine the non-secret parts and the industrial "know-how" to make the secret devices in its own land. Senator Wherry (R., Neb.), another member of the subcommittee, said it appeared to him there should be some central agency to pass on such foreign contracts and tell business men "how far they can go."

He also told reporters he favored tightening existing statutes.

Wiltwycks Hold Annual Banquet

Company Honors Members With Special Awards

The annual banquet of Wiltwyck Hose Co., Tuesday evening at the Roseland Restaurant, 440 Washington avenue, was marked by the presentation of membership certificates to eight new members; badges to the officers of the company, brief addresses of interest to firemen, and the serving of a turkey dinner.

The banquet was declared one of the most successful ever held by the fire company, and was attended by 90 members and guests. Mayor W. F. Edelmuth, president of Wiltwyck Hose, presided as toastmaster.

The fire company has been conducting a membership campaign for several weeks, and an appropriate gift was presented to Kenneth Dixon, who obtained the largest number of new members during the campaign.

Membership certificates were presented to Joseph Brooks, Stewart McGowan, Walter J. Miller, Frank Van Etten, John Schwalbach, Ramon Nadal, Arthur Rifenbary and Jerry Martin.

The officers awarded badges were the mayor, Alderman Eugene Cornwell, treasurer, L. E. Dunne, secretary, Al May, foreman, Charles Ryan, second assistant foreman, Harold Osterhoudt, vice president. Owing to illness Mr. Osterhoudt was unable to be present.

Old Timers Welcomed
Six of the old time members of the company were extended a hearty welcome by Mayor Edelmuth. They were George Beekman of Shandaken, Joseph Hasbrouck, George J. Schryver, Harry B. Walker, Police Lieut. Raymond Van Buren and Charles Mullen of the city's rationing board.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy spoke briefly and called attention to the fact that he had become a member of the City's paid fire department in 1908, when he was appointed deputy chief, and that he had been serving as chief since 1924. The fire chief paid a high compliment to the volunteer firemen of the city as he pointed out that the paid fire department numbered 41 men, but that was not a sufficient number to give adequate fire protection to the city.

"We of the paid fire department," said the chief, "have to depend on the volunteer fire companies for assistance, and they have cooperated 100 per cent with the paid department." Fire Chief Murphy said that this close cooperation was the reason for the fine record established by Kingston's fire department.

Others who spoke briefly were Charles Phinney, who retired as chief of police last night; Richard Riseley, president of the Board of Fire Commissioners and Joseph Condon, resident F.B.I. agent stationed in Poughkeepsie. Among the guests present were the members of the fire board, Richard Riseley, Fred Harder and Edward Ryan, Louis Hurley, resident F.B.I. agent, and William Harper of the New York city office.

Brief Business Session
Prior to the serving of the banquet the fire company held a brief business meeting at the firehouse on Fair street, when the resignation of Edward Brown as foreman was accepted with regret.

Mr. Brown resigned as he is now employed in New York city. Albert May was appointed to succeed him, while George Silverberg was elevated to first assistant foreman, and Charles Ryan to second assistant.

Will Parade in July
The fire company decided to take part in the big firemen's parade in July that will climax the annual convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in Kingston. Herbert Simonetty presented the fire company with a framed honor roll containing the photographs of all of the members of the company who served in World War 2.

Kingston's new chief is the fourth man to hold that post since the police department was first organized on May 15, 1891, with Stephen D. Hood as chief. The other chiefs were J. Allan Wood, who retired in 1939, and Charles Phinney who retired yesterday.

Five other members of the police department who had been stepped up in rank by the police board at the April meeting, also assumed their new duties today.

They are Captain Fred C. Stoudt, Lieutenants Raymond Van Buren and William J. Leonard, Sergeants William A. Krum and Robert Murphy, and Detectives Wesley J. Cramer and Clarence W. Brophy.

Fuller May Withdraw
Washington, May 1 (AP)—Government efforts to end the month-old soft coal strike suffered a blow today with the threatened withdrawal of Special Conciliator Paul W. Fuller. Declaring himself dissatisfied with the government's handling of the walkout, Fuller nevertheless agreed to reconsider his surprise resignation, which was to have been effective last night.

He said he would give Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach his answer today.

Members of Kingston's Chamber of Commerce met this afternoon with a delegation of Dutchess county residents to discuss plans for celebrating the resumption of ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff later in the month.

May considered giving the information "the only contribution he could make to the safety of mankind" because he felt that the more people knew about atomic energy the more seriously they would take it.

"Doctors take the view," Gardner added, "that if they disclose something useful to mankind they are under obligation to give it to mankind. There are scientists who take substantially the same view."

Attorney-General Sir Hartley Shawcross, who prosecuted the case, told the court: "It is not right that an individual should so far set himself above the laws of his country as to communicate information which his government, in agreement with other governments concerned, had felt must at present be maintained as a secret."

Replying to the defense assertion that the information had been given to Russia, the prosecution said:

"There is no point in suggesting that the Russians are enemies or potential enemies. The offense was in giving information which might eventually have reached enemy hands."

May appeared pale and hollowed eyed as he entered the dock at old Bailey to answer the charges.

Asked how he would plead, May hesitated, glanced at his attorney, and then replied quietly: "Guilty."

According to the prosecution, May held a vital position in the nuclear research team sent to Canada in 1943 to work on atomic research.

He was said to have served on two committees which gave him access "to secret reports and the latest information on the production of uranium" although he was not working directly on the atomic bomb.

New Speed Limit Goes Into Effect

Albany, N. Y., May 1 (AP)—A 50-mile an hour speed limit on highways in New York state went into effect today, backed by official warnings that it would be rigidly enforced.

The new limit replaces a 35-mile an hour speed in effect during and since the war. Prior to that time a speed of 40 miles an hour was presumptive evidence of reckless driving.

Governor Dewey, who recently signed a bill authorizing the new speed, and John A. Gaffney, state police superintendent, have said the 50-mile limit will be strictly enforced.

The new law permits villages and cities to fix lower speed limits. It also allows counties and towns to request lower speeds on specified stretches of state highways, and the State Traffic Commission to establish higher limits when conditions warrant.

Brooklyn Native Is Held for Acts On Girl's Report

Sergeant Reilly stated that Gunderud had made a statement in which he admitted being at High Woods and visiting the house of the two girls.

Gunderud, it is alleged, told the girls while he was at the house that he came from Tannersville. An investigation by the officers disclosed that fact that Gunderud was born in Brooklyn, that his folk resided in High Woods and that he had been on a visit to his home there recently. Sergeant Reilly also said that Gunderud had once been charged with having grabbed a girl while she was putting her car in the garage at Saugerties but since Gunderud was under 16 at the time the matter never came into public court, but was treated as a juvenile delinquency matter. That was in 1939.

Again in 1943 while Gunderud was in the navy, he was involved in difficulty at Miami, Florida, where it is alleged there was an attack on a girl. Trooper Reilly said that Gunderud as a result of this incident received an "undesirable" discharge from the navy and later entered the merchant marine.

Dewey's Office Announces About More School Aid

Albany, N. Y., May 1 (AP)—Procedures for granting $1,750,000 in additional state aid to central school districts for the 1946-47 school year were announced today by Governor Dewey's office.

Technical details of the formula for allocating the $1,750,000 have been sent to central school districts by the State Education Department, which developed the plan.

Under the plan, central schools will compute the extra aid at the rate of $150 per elementary pupil and $200 per high school student in average daily attendance.

Adjustments will be made for school size and district wealth in recognition of the fact that small schools have a higher per pupil cost than large schools for the same teaching program, a statement from the governor's office said.

Press May Attend Local Price Control Hearings in Future

Members of the Price Control Panel of the local rationing board voted unanimously yesterday to admit the press to all future hearings conducted by the panel.

The action followed the receipt of recent directives from the Washington office of the O.P.A. The panel conducts hearings on alleged O.P.A. violations every Tuesday at its headquarters in the municipal auditorium.

Matthew Herzog, general chairman of Price Control Panel, presided at yesterday's session. Other members present were George Yerry, Stanley Matthews, Roy Sutcliffe, Mrs. Mabel Fisher, the Rev. Frank Gollnick, Harry Kaplan and Lawrence Beutner.

In the past local O.P.A. violations were not reported to the press, while violations of a more serious nature were announced through state O.P.A. releases.

The admission of reporters to O.P.A. is in line with the liberalized policy announced recently in Washington. Reporters have heretofore been barred from local O.P.A. hearings but under the new ruling, they may attend if the alleged violator doesn't object.

The panel conducted an exhaustive review of all previous decisions rendered by the various committees and gave them unanimous confirmation. The members voted unanimous approval of the current policies of the organization.

Tojo declared he was "surprised" when he was named premier in 1941, although the late Prince Konoye and others said Tojo had engineered the cabinet downfall that placed him in power.

Tojo declined to answer this question: "Do you feel now that it was better that you lived through your suicide attempt?"

He also declined to say whether his decisions would have been affected if the Japanese navy more strongly had opposed war in 1941, whether he thought all of the principal Japanese figures had been accused of war crimes, and what he thought of the trials in general.

The war-instigating premier said "of course I believed we would win the war" at the outset but he declined to express an opinion on how or when Japan had lost.

He said he would answer in court the question when did he become convinced that war with the United States and Britain was inevitable.

Until now, he had remained silent. His answers today indicated the razor-tongued Tojo won't spare words when he goes into court.

U. S. Army Tosses German Folk Out of Homes in Order To Care for Officers' Wives

By HAL BOYLE
Berlin, May 1 (AP)—Army wives who have arrived here to join their husbands in the American occupation forces will find life in Germany easier in many ways than it was in their homeland. Their renting problem is simple. There are no frantic dickering with real estate agents, no bonus payments to tenants relinquishing apartments. Uncle Sam will just toss some German family out of its home, and the American family will move into a clean, neat, well-furnished domicile. The Germans will have to start combing the ruins for living quarters. For this reason the Teutonic population views with considerable misgivings the advent of American wives.

"We will never be masters of our own homes again in our lifetime," said one hausfrau, envisioning a 10 to 20 year occupation. There will be no standing in long lines at the butcher's for the American wife seeking a steak for her lieutenant. She will call at the Army commissary and buy any food available at prices that would seem ridiculously low in the United States. The range of food is very wide and includes a considerable supply of beef.

There will be no lack of those little accessories that gladden the feminine heart. Things like nail polish, rouge, lipsticks, cleansing cream and stockings—yes, stockings, too—lie in plenty on well-stocked post exchange shelves. French perfume is there also and mama can smell nice all day long.

There is a golf club, the swankiest in Germany, where no native son will clutter up the fairway, and the lieutenant and his lady can let their divots fly.

Fine German yachts have been requisitioned for outings. There are good denazified beaches handy and at night there will be regular Army-sponsored movies.

Allies to Come First
Eire, a war neutral, does not expect to be able to buy merchant ships for some time, because countries with surplus shipping—Britain, Sweden and the United States—may place Ireland very far down their lists of customers. "Buying" customers are likely to have priorities and Allies such as France, Belgium and Holland will surely come first, Dublin shipping men believe, despite the fact that Irish operators would be willing to pay high prices.

Food Savers

By VIRGINIA VAN DER VEER
Washington, May 1 (AP)—Set an extra place at the dinner table. Imagine a starving man is your guest.

Will you feed him? He is waiting today in the famine countries of the world for your answer.

There are ways to help him, as simple as setting a table, as direct as if you served his plate yourself. He needs bread and wheat products, food fats and oils. These are the mainstays in food supplies being shipped overseas.

Here are ways you can save them, suggested by the Bureau of Home Economics of the Agriculture Department:

Serve only one slice of bread to each person at dinner. Let the family ask for "seconds." Make the crusty heel a prized piece.

Watch that toaster. Burned bread feeds nobody.

Use dry bread in bread puddings. Or in baked fruit scallops, made of bread and canned or fresh fruit, a little sweetening and fat.

Dry bread makes good toast, not only plain but French, cinnamon, hot-milk, cheese, jelly and melba.

Keep bread, wrapped in moisture-proof paper, in the icebox or bread box. Dry bread can be used but moldy bread is a total waste.

Don't trim off or discard sandwich crusts. Turn odds and ends of bread into dry crumbs for stuffing, frying and topping baked dishes. Try open-faced sandwiches.

To save fats, bake, broil or stew meat, poultry, fish, instead of frying.

Serve fresh fruits for desserts in place of pastry or cake.

Put aside your taste for French fries and other foods fried in deep fat.

Use saved fats for gravy, sauces, flavoring of soups and vegetables, salad dressing, quick-breads, stuffing for poultry or meat. "Butter" bread crumbs in it.

A teaspoon of fat, saved each day by every man, woman and school child, will mean a total saving of a million pounds of fat a day.

Orange Official Raids Horse Room

Teletype Is Confiscated; Two Men Fined

Acting in line with his statement in January that gamblers would not be given haven in Newburgh or Orange county, District Attorney Stanley B. Johnson of Orange county on Monday led a raiding party that resulted in the arrest of two men at 359 Broadway, Newburgh, on charges of accepting horse race bets.

Two hours later the men pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined a total of $250 by Recorder Anthony J. Favino. They were Carmen DeRose, an unemployed truck driver, fined $150 and William Colisky, an unemployed shoe salesman, who was fined $100. Both men are from Newburgh.

It was the third time in three months that the police and attaches of the district attorney's office have raided the building, but no evidence of gambling was found on the two previous visits.

A teletype ticker machine was confiscated by the raiders and the prosecutor also ripped two telephones loose.

Coeds Think War Made Better Lovers

Liberty, Mo., May 1 (AP)—Coeds at tiny William Jewell College think the war has made veterans better lovers.

William Turnage, veteran and associate editor of the college newspaper grew tired of "loose talk about veterans coming back to date coeds after dating girls all over the world."

So he and five other veterans conducted a campus poll among girls from 20 states among the college's 513 students about the 174 ex-service men on the campus.

Sixty-six coeds said men were better lovers now than before the war; 31 thought not and 23 still are undecided.

Twenty-six of the coeds voted that overseas experience had added refinement to the veterans' technique of lovemaking while 71 thought it had added power. Twenty-three couldn't make up their minds what if any improvement had been added to the technique by overseas duty.

It was a close call on whether veterans were more gentlemanly. Sixty-one said yes, 50 no and nine wouldn't say.

Prostatic Cancer Has Two Treatments

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
New York, May 1 (AP)—One out of every five men who live 50 years or more get cancer of the prostate gland, Dr. Reed M. Nesbit of the University of Michigan Medical School told the Medical Society of the State of New York today. He reported on two new treatments which he said offered some hope of improvement. Both get rid of a man's male sex hormones. One is by castration, and the other by administration of the female, synthetic sex hormone, diethylstilbestrol. The first has now had five years trial, the second two. Comparing the new treatments with older ones, Dr. Nesbit said that at the end of two years the deaths after older treatments were 69 per cent of the cases studied; for castration 37 per cent; and for the female hormone 24 per cent. For five years, deaths after the older treatment were 82 per cent and for castration, 66 per cent, he added.

Dr. Nesbit said that early surgery still is the most reliable, resulting in real cures. He added, however, this surgery is not used often enough because American men in general are totally ignorant about the dangers of prostatic cancer.

HOME GARDENS

Millions of people in Europe and Asiatic lands today look to America for food that will save their lives. One way in which many of us can help is through victory gardens.

Twenty million home gardens this year, a figure exceeding the highest goal established during the war years, has been set. Chester C. Davis, chairman of the President's Food Emergency Committee, declares home gardens will help us conserve wheat by providing extra vegetables to make up for less bread and cereal. They will cushion against shortages which may develop here and there during the critical months. They will enable many more people to can and preserve foods, making it possible for them to donate more to collection campaigns for foreign relief. Gardens will, in short, help us to meet our goals for export and protect us against shortages at home.

The trouble with Congress is that it hates to do what it thinks may be unpopular, yet that is the only way to solve many of our problems. And then, again, Congress might be guessing wrong as to what is popular. Public opinion is apt to be ahead of its representative body.

A NEW FRANCE

On the eve of the Big Four's Conference of Foreign Ministers in Paris, the French assembly announced a new Constitution which will be submitted for approval of French voters May 5. By a slim margin the Communist-Socialists won this constitution which replaces the present one adopted in 1875. It calls for one assembly, a body with more power than the British House of Commons, under which the French president would be merely a figurehead. The opposition, a coalition of conservatives, fought for a second chamber to replace the old senate and for a president with strong executive powers comparable to those of the President of the United States, but lost.

The new constitution contains a lengthy "Declaration of the Rights of Man", based on the 1789 French Revolution constitution and the American Bill of Rights as well as the Declaration of Independence. It provides for woman suffrage; democratic colonial government; freedom of thought, conscience and expression.

Freedom of the press was stricken out for fear of "press domination by vested interests." This was natural, considering the corrupt press from which France has suffered of late years. But the French will soon find press freedom necessary to preserve the other liberties.

IGNORANCE IS FOLLY

"There is nothing worse in this world than an active ignorance." Goethe, nurtured in Germany long before Nazism, uttered those words. What would he think of his countrymen who permitted themselves the virulently active ignorance that closed their eyes and minds to anything beyond Hitlerite teachings? That led them, and half the world with them, to disaster? "Wisdom," the great Goethe continued "lies only in the truth."

While condemning the Nazi system of truth-distortion, Americans have need to beware of their own ignorances. Too many people brag about "not understanding" current issues. A 68-year-old retired business man, touring California, recently announced publicly that he hadn't read a newspaper in a month. The world was on the way to the dogs, said he, and he wasn't going to be bothered. Others, less forthright, read only the funnies, and sometimes the headlines. How many bother to become informed about what their representatives in Washington are doing? Who their local school board candidates are? The international program of the State Department? Current questions before U.N.?

The world suddenly has grown small. Its problems are within the reach and the re-

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE HEGIRA OF EARL BROWDER

Earl Browder, for many years the Koba of the American Communist Movement, was deprived of his authority and expelled from his party by order of the Third International, using Duclos, the French Communist, as a mouthpiece. 'He is now either on his way to or actually in Soviet Russia to appeal his case.

Curiously, this happened before. Back in 1929, Jay Lovestone and Ben Gitlow, Browder's predecessors, rushed off to Soviet Russia to appeal their cases. Stalin had decided that the American Communist party had to have an American facade. No more foreign accents in the top leadership. American Communism had to be led by someone who looked like a typical American—Browder was born in Kansas of authentic Anglo-Saxon stock. Of course, he was not to be trusted too much; he might revert to the American type. He would be put in charge of unpublicized G.P.U. agents who would watch and instruct, watch and instruct.

So Jay Lovestone and Ben Gitlow were practically imprisoned in Russia until they were helped escape by Henry Yagoda of the G.P.U., who was then already scheming against Stalin, for which he was ultimately purged. And Browder became the American Koba—the American Stalin, boss of those little creatures who shriek and shout on parades and who blindly follow the dictates of a foreign master, who denounce and betray their country, its traditions, its history, its ideals—who change their names to confuse their fellow-citizens; who creep into government positions to spy and trick and confuse. Browder had a good job while it lasted.

Then a curious thing happened to Browder. The war came and Browder went patriotic. That, of course, was the party line and no one could question Browder's rigid adherence to the dogma handed down from the Throne of Peter the Great. But the unexpected psychological change that occurred in Earl Browder was that when the war was over, Browder found it difficult to switch out of his patriotism fast enough. He really believed in America. If anything, he reverted to Kansas.

So they kicked him out of the American Communist party. They put in charge William Z. Foster, a weak and faltering man, with Eugene Dennis as the real master. No man has ever had to take the beating that Earl Browder was made to take. Every former associate, every subordinate, every personal friend, every party member who had ever had anything to do with him was required to write a letter to "The Daily Worker" and "The New Masses" denouncing Browder in the most vicious and abject terms. Men whom I have seen groveling before the Master now swatted him over the head with the pastiest accusations and denunciations.

Had I not witnessed, in America, where men can be free, this debasement of every human quality in obedience to orders from an alien political party, fearful of the purge, fearful of the G.P.U., fearful of the fate of Juliet Poyntz, Krivitzky, Tresca, I might not have understood the self-denunciation, the self-emasculation, the reduction of man to a thing, so vividly described by Kravchenko in his book, "I Chose Freedom."

These Communists were Americans. They were free. They could stand up. But they whined. "I am a bum because I listened to Browder." It was a pitiful, disgusting spectacle. For weeks, each morning I read those auto-denunciations by men who switched their views and loyalties on a twenty-four hour notice.

Browder was denounced as an American bourgeois, a revisionist, a tool of Wall Street, a believer in private enterprise. He tried to defend his patriotism, his socialism, his Marxism, his loyalty to Stalin. They would not listen. Duclos had ordered his expulsion; he must be crushed.

So Browder now goes to the seat of the Most High. How he got even so far is a puzzle, but one that will be known in time. Maybe, Stalin feels that the American Communists have antagonized the American people against Soviet Russia. If so, Browder may be restored and all those who denounced him will apologize to him. Maybe, it is something even more dramatic and ugly. We shall soon know. (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TUBERCULOSIS

About 30 years ago, tuberculosis—the white plague—stood first as a cause of death. To treat this disease properly sanatoriums were established, usually in a dry high part of the state or province where the patient not only obtained a "cure" but learned how to take care of himself when he returned home and how to prevent others from being infected.

In 1913, a little over 30 years ago, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company established a sanatorium for their employees who had developed tuberculosis. This sanatorium was established in the foothills of the Adirondacks, treatment being absolutely free.

The Bulletin of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association states that the Metropolitan Insurance Company has through annual examination of its employees located cases in their early stages. Patients have been encouraged to remain at the sanatorium, Mt. McGregor, until their condition warranted returning to work. As there were no financial worries many patients have recovered with remarkable rapidity.

Since the sanatorium opened in 1913, 3,507 Metropolitan employees have been treated at Mt. McGregor. Now the number of patients has decreased to such an extent that there is no longer any need for such a large institution and so it is being closed. Henceforth patients will be treated at the company's expense in sanatoriums (sanatoria) located nearer to their homes.

What is the lesson for us as we remember that tuberculosis once heading the list as a cause of death is now a considerable way down the list and getting down lower every year?

"The Metropolitan Life has demonstrated what can be done by an organization which is guided by enlightened good will and prepared to provide the necessary equipment and facilities. For 32 years the company has maintained a systematic program of tuberculosis control among its employees. Today this has borne fruit. At a time when public health can be maintained, this company's experience comes as convincing proof that tuberculosis can be wiped out in our generation."

Can We Feed the World?

The bureaucrats of U. S. have decided to feed the world first, and U. S. last.

All this is very commendable; but the Government is hiding the facts. Can we do it?

There is much talk about cutting down our consumption of wheat foods; notably macaroni, spaghetti, and especially bread. This is O. K.

What about the grains that go into the production of animal feeds, especially dairy feeds?

The average citizen, especially the city dweller doesn't realize the importance of feeding grains. The farmer is in the "know" and is already feeling the pinch.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

GNAWED EDGES OF YOUNG LEAVES

Sanitation Necessary for Success With Iris

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Association

SANITATION is of vital importance in the culture of iris and careful attention to it will prevent many diseases of the plants which if carried over the winter may become epidemic the following year.

Be alert for the appearance of leaf spot in iris. It usually develops soon after the plants have flowered. The best method of control is to remove and burn any leaves with the telltale markings shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

If iris are at all crowded in their beds, the leaves should be cut back to allow sun and air to reach the tops of the roots, or rhizomes.

If you find the edges of young iris leaves have been gnawed, as illustrated, you can suspect the pest known as iris borer. The moth of the iris borer lays eggs at the base of the leaves in the fall. These eggs hatch out in April of the following year.

Spraying iris plantings with a dormant oil will destroy the eggs. If the eggs are not thus destroyed caterpillars hatch out and begin feeding on the edges of the foliage.

Cutting off and burning the ragged leaves at this time will destroy the tiny pests. As the caterpillars grow they work themselves into the leaves causing the telltale "water-soaked" spots. At this time the pests can be killed by piercing with a wire, although it is tedious work.

After the iris plant has bloomed the borer works its way into the roots. Here it eats away sections of the rhizome, sometimes leaving nothing but a shell of the root.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Householders will not forget this year in a long while, especially the men and women who have had to form in the butter line, only to find that before the end of the line was reached the supply on hand in the store had been exhausted.

Women will not forget the many times they formed in line to obtain a pair of nylon stockings, and the many times, before they were reached in line, when there were no more stockings.

During the war years it was a common sight to see men and women lining up in the cigarette line.

This recalls to mind that while there was no rationing of merchandise in the first World War there were times when the dealer's stock of merchandise was depleted. This is recalled by an item in October, 1917, which reported a shortage of sugar in Kingston, and said some of the grocers had their stocks of sugar entirely exhausted.

St. John's Church, which had been rebuilt on the present Albany avenue site, was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on October 21, 1927, by Bishop William T. Manning.

The historic old church stood for years on Wall street until the vestry decided to sell the land on which the church stood for use as a mercantile site. When the land was sold the old church was carefully taken down and re-erected on the Albany avenue property.

The Rev. William Poyntell Kemper was rector of the church in 1927.

Turning for a minute to politics, Mayor E. J. Dempsey after a heated verbal campaign, was re-elected mayor of the city at the November, 1927, election. He defeated City Judge Harry E. Schirick, now a justice of the Supreme court, who was the Democratic candidate.

Mayor Dempsey's running mate, C. Ray Everett was also elected to the office of alderman-at-large, defeating Dr. Sam Stern, running on the Democratic ticket.

The Republicans controlled the Common Council as a result of the election, having elected eight aldermen while the Democrats elected five.

The Republicans elected aldermen were Fred M. Dressel, Ray Haines, Zach Hermance, Henry Fox, Alex. Ostrander, James T. O'Reilly, Abram D. Relyea and John E. Hull.

The Democrats elected were John Molyneux, Sam N. Mann, Leo W. Clare, Charles Burger and Bernard Reilly.

Under the provisions of an ordinance adopted by the Common Council in 1927, the salary of the mayor was fixed at $5,000 a year, effective January 1, 1928.

Mayor Dempsey was Kingston's first salaried mayor.

Cornelius Van Buren, who retired from the Kingston police force, on October 31, 1919, died in his home in Cleveland, Ohio, on October 30, 1927.

He was appointed a member of the force on May 22, 1905, and served for 24 years before he retired, and left Kingston to make his home in Cleveland.

Before he became a policeman he was employed as night watchman at the old Powell, Smith & Co., cigar factory on Broadway, at Pine Grove avenue.

Does Byrnes Proposal Mean There Is Lack of Faith in United Nations Organization? That Is Big Query in Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 1—Why should the United States suddenly spring on the world a proposal for a treaty of 25 years duration that binds Russia, American, Britain and France to a guarantee against possible aggression by Germany? One might have supposed that the United Nations would see to it that there would be no aggression by Germany or any other hand. The Does Byrnes mean then that there is any lack of faith in the United Nations organization?

These questions were being asked here today as a consequence of the rather sensational move in Paris by Secretary Byrnes. Indeed, the treaty was a complete surprise to the United States staff and the military folks generally didn't have any word about it in advance. They naturally favor the plan and probably would have approved it but the important fact is that the whole thing has been kept a secret, though work has progressed on it in the Department of State for several months.

Nor is the idea itself the product of the administration's thinking alone. Senator Vandenberg proposed the same thing in a speech a year or so ago, which is an indication that the measure will have strong support from both major parties if it comes before the Senate.

The basic reason for the proposition has to do with the way matters have shaped up in the world since V-J Day. Russia has been operating on a one-sided basis throughout eastern Europe. In the Russian zone of occupation in Germany, the Russians are plainly violating the Potsdam agreement. They are communizing eastern Germany. The whole Russian policy in demanding friendly states on their borders and the off-repeated cry of "security" are based on the hypothesis that Germany is planning new aggression.

To checkmate that theory and to reveal to all the world that there is no need for Russian fears for her expansion under the guise of "security," the Byrnes-Vandenberg treaty now is offered. It is apparent that Molotov was caught by surprise. He doesn't know what to make of it. But here is a treaty made to order for Russia. Once she accepts it, there can be no justification for arguing on every occasion that what is being done by the Russian armies of occupation is designed to exterminate Fascism.

The significance of the American maneuver cannot be overestimated. The United States would pledge itself to participation in military measures as against possible German aggression. Such a treaty, if ratified, would naturally increase the need for military preparation to fulfill such obligation but, on the other hand, the commitment is not any larger than would be the case anyway under the United Nations charter, which the President and the secretary of state recently stated that this country was determined to defend.

As to whether the move indicates any less faith in the United Nations Organization and its capacity to keep the peace, the answer is that the United States hopes to rely on both instruments—the new treaty and the U.N. charter. If by any device of clever delay or the willful obstruction of any major power, there is an impediment in the U.N. to the prompt operation of the charter in handling German aggression, the new treaty would nevertheless come into instant effect by the action of only four powers.

Britain and France would presumably be concerned at once and would want to see aggression nipped in the bud. The United States would have as its major interest the prevention of any world-wide conflagration. As for Russia, it might or might not agree that what the Germans were doing was aggression. This would depend on whether the Russians had control through their Communist party of what was being done in the name of the German government. But certainly if the German government were hostile to Russia, the British, French and American support for the Russian demand for protection against aggression would simplify the task of maintaining peace in central Europe.

The treaty proposal is a master stroke. Strangely enough, it parallels the proposal made by President Wilson in 1919 whereby Britain, France and the United States were to guarantee France against German aggression. The treaty failed of action because the League of Nations covenant was rejected. Maybe this time the charter has been adopted by the U. S. Senate, the guarantee will be likewise approved. Following the example of Australia and New Zealand, other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations are planning special stamp issues to commemorate the return of peace. The Australian and New Zealand issues, announced recently, have now arrived in this country.

A two-stamp set consisting of 30-cent and one dollar values is being prepared for Hong Kong, according to J. and H. Stolor of New York. The design will feature a phoenix rising from the flames of war. A portrait of George VI, the date "1941-1945" and Chinese inscriptions reading "China and Britain Perpetually at Peace" and "The Phoenix Rises in Prosperity" complete the design. Peace commemoratives also are

An obvious propaganda label designed to represent a postage stamp is the sticker or seal illustrated here which recently has been circulated in Madrid, Spain. The picture is a poor likeness of Don Juan, pretender to the throne of Spain, with an evident attempt to emphasize his Bourbon nose. As indicated at the top of the sticker should Don Juan, now living in Lisbon, ascend to the Spanish throne, he would become "Juan III." Although obviously not a postage stamp, the sticker comes so close to resembling one that it might fool even the postman.

The honorable discharge emblem commemorative to be placed on sale May 9 will be purple in color, the Post Office Department has announced. Originally it was hoped that the stamp honoring all discharged veterans of World War II would be bi-colored in its natural gold color. The department has ordered an initial printing of 100,000 stamps.

Nurses Aide Plan To Be Abandoned

Health Heads, Hospitals Agree on Discontinuance

The Red Cross Nurses Aide Committee yesterday announced the discontinuance of the Nurses Aide Program following a lengthy meeting with local health agencies.

The decision to terminate the excellent wartime program was based on existing conditions. The national policy provides that the nurses program will be "a continuing and permanent one, but dependent to its extent in any chapter upon local community needs."

Consultations with local hospitals and the Public Health Department and other health agencies established the fact that the nurses aide program could be terminated without seriously affecting local health requirements.

During the war the local chapter trained 64 young women to assist in the local hospitals and clinics under the supervision of professional nurses. These volunteers served a total of 8,321 hours.

Mrs. Walter K. Hubbard, Red Cross chapter executive director, commenting on the volunteer assistance said: "Their patriotic and faithful service has created among us a feeling of the greatest respect and admiration as well as a deep sense of gratitude for a job well done."

The chapter's executive committee, nurses aide committee, officials of the Kingston and Benedictine hospitals and the Public Health Department, expressed their appreciation of the splendid service rendered by the program.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Charles F. Lieske, who died at his residence 215 Ten Broeck avenue, April 27, was held at the Fair Street Reformed Church, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services were largely attended and there were many flowers. Sunday and Monday evenings many friends called at the residence. Services were conducted by the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of the church and the Rev. Frank B. Seeley, pastor emeritus. Burial was in Fairview cemetery, Stone Ridge.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Lauretta M. Mills In loving memory of our wife and mother, who passed away May 1, 1945.

If all the world was ours to give, We would give it, yes and more; To clasp the hand of mother dear, And see her smile once more.

And those who have a mother, Treasure her with care; For you will never know her value, Till you see her empty chair.

HUSBAND, SON and DAUGHTER-IN-LAW and GRANDCHILDREN

MEMORIAM In memory of Thomas N. Rafferty who died one year ago today, May 1, 1945.

Gone one year but leaving memories, death can never take away. Memories that will always linger while upon this earth we stay. Though his smile is gone forever, and his face we cannot touch. We shall never lose sweet memories of the one we loved so much.

offing presented an unexpected threat to the loan bill. Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) told a reporter that within the next day or two he will move a point of order, a parliamentary maneuver which it sustained would bring Senate consideration of the loan to an immediate halt.

Johnson said he will contend that the bill under which Congress would approve the financial arrangements made with the British is a revenue-raising measure and, under the Constitution, must be approved by the House before the Senate can act.

By custom, Johnson's point of order would go to a direct vote of the Senate without a ruling by the presiding officer because a constitutional question is involved. The point might, however, be a subject of lengthy debate itself. "This is a serious question," Johnson said, "and the Senate will have to decide the matter itself."

As Johnson said he well knew, some members who have not been able to make up their minds whether to support or oppose the loan plan might find it easy to force a constitutional point of order that would pass the loan bill over the House. Most publicly-recorded opponents of the loan are expected to line up behind the move.

Quarterly Conference Is Held in A.M.E. Church

At the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church last Sunday, the Rev. J. H. Tucker of Peekskill, presiding, held of the Hudson River District of New York Conference, was present and delivered the sermon. The Rev. Mr. Tucker also held the fourth quarterly conference of the church for the year. All of the church boards and working auxiliaries made quarterly and annual reports of the year's activities.

Henry Van DerZee was chosen delegate and Mrs. Essie Hardin as alternate to the annual conference which will take place at the A. M. E. Zion Church in Brooklyn, June 19. Bishop William J. Walls of Chicago, Ill., will preside. The delegate will be instructed to petition Bishop Walls for the return of the Rev. Stephen D. Conrad as pastor for another year and also the reassignment of the Rev. J. H. Tucker as presiding elder.

No Prospect of Senate Vote Against Rent Control

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Senators Wagner (D-N.Y.) and Buck (R-Del.) agreed today that there was no prospect of the Senate's voting to end rent controls.

The point has been raised before the Senate Banking Committee in its consideration of legislation to extend O.P.A. beyond its June 30 expiration date. Wagner is chairman of the committee and Buck is one of its most regular attendants.

"I see no possibility of the Senate voting to take the ceiling off rents," Wagner said. "Not even the House went that far."

Wagner was referring to the trimmed-down O.P.A. bill which the House has passed. Buck said that while he saw no likelihood of lifting controls, he was not so sure about the possibility of action to permit a percentage increase in recent ceilings.

George M. Englar, president of the National Apartment Owners Association, told the committee yesterday that, if denied a 15 percent increase in rents, his association will demand total elimination of rent controls.

Scout Council Rejects East Jewett Dam Bid

At a meeting of the executive board of the Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts, Monday night, one bid was received for the building of a dam at the East Jewett campsite. The bid was rejected as excessive. The board will readvertise for bids.

It is hoped that the dam can be constructed and made ready for use by the Scouts this summer. Work of moving some of the camp equipment to the new site already has begun and it is hoped that a quantity of surplus government equipment can be secured.

Present plans for the summer camping include the use of the recreation hall for a dining room and the construction of a temporary kitchen, until permanent buildings can be erected.

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED—DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by All Drug Stores here in Kingston.

U. S. Army Tosses German Folk Out of Homes in Order To Care for Officers' Wives

By HAL BOYLE

Berlin, May 1 (AP)—Army wives who have arrived here to join their husbands in the American occupation forces will find life in Germany easier in many ways than it was in their homeland. Their renting problem is simple. There are no frantic dickering with real estate agents, no bonus payments to tenants re-possessing apartments. Uncle Sam will just toss some German family out of its home, and the American family will move into a clean, neat, well-furnished domicile. The Germans will have to start combing the ruins for living quarters.

For this reason the Teutonic population views with considerable misgivings the advent of American wives.

"We will never be masters of our own homes again in our lifetime," said one hausfrau, envisioning a 10 to 20 year occupation. There will be no standing in long lines at the butcher's for the American wife seeking a steak for her lieutenant. She will call at the Army commissary and buy any food available at prices that would seem ridiculously low in the United States. The range of food is very wide and includes a considerable supply of beef.

There will be no lack of those little accessories that gladden the feminine heart. Things like nail polish, rouge, lipsticks, cleansing cream and stockings—yes, stockings, too—lie in plenty on well-stocked post exchange shelves.

French perfume is there also and mama can smell nice all day long.

There is a golf club, the swankiest in Germany, where no native son will clutter up the fairway, and the lieutenant and his lady can let their divots fly.

Fine German yachts have been requisitioned for outings. There are good denazified beaches handy and at night there will be regular Army-sponsored movies.

Allies to Come First

Eire, a war neutral, does not expect to be able to buy merchant ships for some time, because countries with surplus shipping—Britain, Sweden and the United States—may place Ireland very far down their lists of customers. "Buying" customers are likely to have priorities and Allies such as France, Belgium and Holland will surely come first, Dublin shipping men believe, despite the fact that Irish operators would be willing to pay high prices.

Food Savers

By VIRGINIA VAN DER VEER
Washington, May 1 (AP)—Set an extra place at the dinner table. Imagine a starving man is your guest.

Will you feed him? He is waiting today in the famine countries of the world for your answer.

There are ways to help him, as simple as setting a table, as direct as if you served his plate yourself. He needs bread and wheat products, food fats and oils. These are the mainstays in food supplies being shipped overseas.

Here are ways you can save them, suggested by the Bureau of Home Economics of the Agriculture Department:

Serve only one slice of bread to each person at dinner. Let the family ask for "seconds." Make the crusty heel a prized piece.

Watch that toaster. Burned bread feeds nobody.

Use bread in bread puddings. Or in baked fruit scallops, made of bread and canned or fresh fruit, a little sweetening and fat.

Dry bread makes good toast, not only plain but French, cinnamon, hot-milk, cheese, jelly and melba. Keep bread wrapped in moisture-proof paper in the icebox or bread box. Dry bread can be used but moldy bread is a total waste.

Don't trim off or discard sandwich crusts. Turn odds and ends of bread into dry crumbs for stuffing, frying and topping baked dishes. Try open-faced sandwiches.

To save fats, bake, broil or stew meat, poultry, fish, instead of frying.

Serve fresh fruits for desserts in place of pastry or cake. Put aside your taste for French fries and other foods fried in deep fat.

Use saved fats for gravy, sauces, flavoring of soups and vegetables, salad dressing, quick-breads, stuffing for poultry or meat. "Butter" bread crumbs in it.

A teaspoon of fat, saved each day by every man, woman and school child, will mean a total saving of a million pounds of fat a day.

Orange Official Raids Horse Room

Teletype Is Confiscated; Two Men Fined

Acting in line with his statement in January that gamblers would not be given haven in Newburgh or Orange county, District Attorney Stanley B. Johnson of Orange county on Monday led a raiding party that resulted in the arrest of two men at 359 Broadway, Newburgh, on charges of accepting horse race bets.

Two hours later the men pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined a total of $250 by Recorder Anthony J. Favino. They were Carmen DeRose, an unemployed truck driver, fined $150 and William Colsky, an unemployed shoe salesman, who was fined $100. Both men are from Newburgh.

It was the third time in three months that the police and attaches of the district attorney's office have raided the building, but no evidence of gambling was found on the two previous visits.

A teletype ticker machine was confiscated by the raiders and the prosecutor also ripped two telephones loose.

Coeds Think War Made Better Lovers

Liberty, Mo., May 1 (AP)—Coeds at tiny William Jewell College think the war has made veterans better lovers.

William Turnage, veteran and associate editor of the college newspaper grew tired of "loose talk about veterans coming back to date coeds after dating girls all over the world."

So he and five other veterans conducted a campus poll among girls from 20 states among the college's 513 students about the 174 ex-service men on the campus.

Sixty-six coeds said men were better lovers now than before the war; 31 thought not and 23 still are undecided.

Twenty-six of the coeds voted that overseas experience had added refinement to the veterans' technique of lovemaking while 71 thought it had added power. Twenty-three couldn't make up their minds what if any improvement had been added to the technique by overseas duty.

It was a close call on whether veterans were more gentlemanly. Sixty-one said yes, 50 no and nine wouldn't say.

Prostatic Cancer Has Two Treatments

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
New York, May 1 (AP)—One out of every five men who live 50 years or more get cancer of the prostate gland, Dr. Reed M. Nesbit of the University of Michigan Medical School told the Medical Society of the State of New York today. He reported on two new treatments which he said offered some hope of improvement. Both get rid of a man's male sex hormones. One is by castration, and the other by administration of the female, synthetic sex hormone, diethylstilbestrol. The first has now had five years trial, the second two.

Comparing the new treatments with older ones, Dr. Nesbit said that at the end of two years the deaths after older treatments were 69 per cent of the cases studied; for castration 37 per cent; and for the female hormone 24 per cent. For five years, deaths after the older treatment were 82 per cent and for castration, 66 per cent, he added.

Dr. Nesbit said that early surgery still is the most reliable, resulting in real cures. He added, however, this surgery is not used often enough because American men in general are totally ignorant about the dangers of prostatic cancer.

Weather Reporter

Newark, N. J., (AP)—Joseph McLaughlin, a Newark Evening News reporter, spent the night in jail after covering a borough council meeting in North Caldwell. When he came out after the meeting he discovered his automobile was snowed in by a sudden storm, and asked the police for lodgings for the night.

When Mark Twain was making one of his European tours, an Englishman started him by saying abruptly: "Mr. Clemens, I would give Ten Pounds not to have read your 'Huckleberry Finn'."

And as Mark looked up, awaiting an explanation of this extraordinary remark, the Englishman smiled and added: ".....so that I could again have the great pleasure of reading it for the first time."

A pious lady who lived by herself was quite "put out" because her neighbors had not invited her to go with them on a picnic. On the morning of the outing, however, the picknickers relented and asked her to join them. "It's too late," she snapped, "I've already prayed for rain."

Friend—Joe, how do you expect to accomplish anything with three good looking stenographers in your office?

Man—by giving two of them a day off.

Most men can enjoy fun and then dismiss it from the mind; but some women's minds don't work that way. They just don't dismiss anything from anywhere anytime.

A woman says her husband always is kicking about the meals: "We—Why don't you let him cook them himself?"

Woman—I do, and that's what he's kicking about.

GRANGE NEWS

New Paltz Meeting

Huguenot Grange met in regular session on Saturday night. Following the business session Frank Elliott presented George Ronk and Billy Rinehart in a saxophone and trumpet rendition of "Easter Parade" with Mrs. Eugene Troutwein at the piano. Mrs. Frank Elliott then gave a number of readings. Albert Kurdt, county agriculture agent, spoke of the growth of fruit farms in Ulster county and told of an efficiency survey made on a number of farms. Mrs. Daisy Kortright then took over the program for a recreational number in which all participated. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Gertrude Coulter and Mrs. Emma Kaiser, hostesses for the evening and their committee. A same party will be held in Grange Hall on Tuesday evening, May 8, at 7 o'clock. The next regular Grange meeting will be held on Saturday night, May 4. Movies will be shown by Ralph Johnson.

Fire Losses Increase

Albany, N. Y., April 30 (AP)—Fire loss in New York state was 11 per cent higher during the five-year period ending in 1944 than during the previous five years. A survey of "fire engineering" magazine shows losses totaling $123,042,094 during the five years ending 1944 against $111,450,024 from 1935 to 1939 inclusive. The magazine warned that loss of property and life from fire would mount for the next 10 years.

At the promenade of Voiture Locale, 381, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, Sunday afternoon, 13 American Legionnaires were initiated into the order which is a branch of the Legion.

Legionnaires who took their obligation at the Memorial Building of Kingston Post, 150, were County Judge John M. Cahan, Judge Bernard A. Culliton, Kingston Post Commander Samuel H. Peyster, Aaron R. Hasbrouck, George S. Heinen, Edward Jones, Gordon F. Levine, Waldron D. Mond, Ernest R. Jansen, Sydney Flisser, Jesse N. Van Gaasbeck, Dr. Sidney Wolf and Harry Beck.

After the ceremonies at the Legion building the 40 & 8 dined at the Hotel Stuyvesant. Grand Commis Voyageur Charles H. Hummer, Jr., chairman of the 40 & 8 locomotive fund asked each voyager to send a contribution to help purchase a locomotive to be used on various occasions when the order takes part in public events.

Chief de Gare John N. Cordts requested the men to take part in the Memorial Day parade, each marching with his respective Legion post, and during his talk laid emphasis on the duty of 40 & 8's to procure Legion members from among the veterans of World War 2.

Among guests at the Sunday event were Grand Medecin Voyageur Harry M. Biffar from Queens Voiture, 56, Voyageur Hamon, superintendent of Napecho Institution and Cpl. James McTigue of Cairo who has been enlisted in the army.

Corporal McTigue enlisted two years before the United States entered the war and was captured with General Wainwright on Corrigidor. He was one of 3,500 prisoners out of 21,000 to survive the brutality of the Japanese.

As a prisoner of war Corporal McTigue labored in Jap copper mines. In three and a half years his weight dropped from 175 to 94 pounds. His diet was flour and water, with a little rice.

Orders were given in Japanese. When workers couldn't understand, the Japs pricked them with bayonets. McTigue has 20 scars. He lost all his teeth when a guard cracked him in the mouth with a rifle butt.

Describing terrible conditions on Jap prison ships, Cpl. McTigue said that the weakest captives were thrown overboard.

With six years of service to his credit, the corporal intends to make the army his career. He praised the treatment he has received and thinks there are lots of good opportunities in the army.

Ceiling Is Set

Washington, April 30 (AP)—The Veterans Administration today placed a tentative ceiling of $6,000 a year on fees paid by the V.A. to doctors called in as consultants at veterans hospitals. The V.A., faced by a shortage of doctors of its own, has been calling on outside doctors for help. The order would limit the amount these doctors could be paid for their consultations.

The cloth in one handkerchief and the paper in 15 grocery bags are sufficient to manufacture a book.

Teachers May Advance Their Salaries by Training Credits

Among numerous rules and regulations adopted by the Kingston Board of Education, in connection with the new salary schedule approved last week, there is particular interest in the provision by which teachers may advance their salaries through increased training.

A system of five-year "levels" has been adopted and a teacher gaining the required number of training credits during a five-year period is in a position to be advanced to the next higher level, which carries with it an advance in salary.

The new rules and regulations, covering teachers and heads of departments, include the following: The superintendent of schools will evaluate the experience and training of new teachers and determine their salary level.

Teachers may advance their salaries by increasing their training. Thus advancement from level A to B will require a Bachelor's degree or its equivalent (32 credit hours); from B to C a Master's degree or equivalent (32 credit hours).

Additional training courses should be approved in advance by the superintendent of schools, not later than June 1.

Five-Year System

A system of five-year service levels has been adopted to encourage teachers to remain in Kingston and insure improvement in service. There are three levels which normally should be reached when a teacher has taught, 13, 18 and 23 years respectively.

The teacher in order to progress to any one of the salary levels must remain on the previous level for five years, must have met the additional training requirements and be recommended by the superintendent of schools. Six credit hours or its equivalent during the preceding five-year period, in a summer school or other approved course of study are necessary for advancement.

Applicants for any position must meet the requirements of the State Education Department for certification. Trade school certificates and school nurse-teacher certificates shall be considered equal to the five-year level.

Transfer of teachers shall remain a prerogative of the Board of Education, based upon recommendation of the superintendent. The application of "tenure" shall be strictly in accordance with the State Education Law.

Insofar as possible husband and wife shall not hold regular positions in buildings where one principal has charge of two schools the head teacher shall be paid $200 in addition to the regular schedule.

The custodian of all high school extra-curricular funds, including athletic funds, shall receive $300, over and above the regular teacher's salary.

Transportation allowance for all special teachers, nurses, supervisors, attendance officers, agriculture teacher, etc., is included in the base salary.

May Go Over Schedule

It is declared that there is nothing in this schedule to prevent the Board of Education from granting any teacher or employee an increment larger than specified in the schedule, or from paying a salary above the maximum established in the schedule, which becomes effective July 1, 1946.

Principals in the elementary schools, the Myron J. Michael School, the principal and vice-principal at the Kingston High School, must meet the State requirements for "certification of principals."

Heads of departments in the Kingston High School shall be paid the sum of $200 in addition to the regular schedule. The head of a department shall be considered as head of that particular subject in Grades 9 to 12 inclusive. This includes the ninth year in the Myron J. Michael School.

Substitutes Pay

Substitutes shall be paid at the rate of $6 per day. Teachers in the Summer School shall be paid at the rate of $7 per day. Teachers in the Evening School shall be paid at the rate of $2 per hour.

The Guidance Director shall be in charge of the guidance program in all of the schools. The Agriculture teacher shall serve on a 12-month basis.

The new base salary shall be the sum of the present base salary plus the present cost of living adjustment.

The only basis upon which any professional activity shall be approved for credit is that it contributes directly to an improvement in the effectiveness of a teacher's work.

As to types of professional activities which will be considered for credit:

In educational research the project shall be within the field of work in which the teacher is teaching and shall cover an area which can be clearly defined as to relationship to that work. The results shall show a definite contribution to improved teaching service. (Not more than six credit hours will be allowed in any one calendar year.)

Objective. The project shall be of such a nature and quality that it makes a definite contribution to improved teaching service.

Occupational Experience. Shall be directly related to the teacher's field of work; shall result in an extension and improvement in the teacher's skill and knowledge in the field of work in which he is teaching.

Travel. The only kind of travel that will be considered for credit is where such travel is undertaken for a definite purpose of research. It must result in a definite contribution to improved teaching service.

In report of the Board of Education meeting, Friday, night, through an error in the first paragraph of the account mention was made of the purchase of Lawton Park for school purposes.

Loughran Park was correctly used in the latter part of the story, which gave details of the action taken to secure Loughran Park for school purposes.

Mrs. Florence S. Solomon, whose resignation as teacher in the first grade of School No. 2 was accepted, has joined her husband, David Solomon, at Fleischmanns.

Mr. Solomon, who recently received his honorable discharge from the Army, has taken a position at Fleischmanns.

Develops Bad Run

Paterson, N. J., (AP)—A hosiery dealer was reported to the O.P.A. district office by three women for overcharges on rayon stockings.

The O. P. A. investigated, refunded 50 cents each to the trio, then collected $1,116 in triple damage settlements for overcharges on 744 other sales of stockings turned up in the investigation.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Common Falling
New York, May 1 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, an old hand at traveling, was four minutes late arriving at a meeting of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights, of which she is chairman.

"I got mixed up on the subway again," she explained.

Long Term Investment
Philadelphia, May 1 (AP)—Clarence S. Keator donated 73 cents to his church's building fund when he was six years old.

Keator, now 46, got the money back today on order of orphan's court.

An endowment fund of $47,296 raised by the North Broad Street Presbyterian Church in 1906 stipulated the money was to be returned to original subscribers when the church was dissolved.

Heel Steals Wheel
Chicago, May 1 (AP)—Irving Feinberg was driving his automobile in Ogden avenue last night when he was jolted violently and the front end of the car sagged abruptly to the left.

Spying his front wheel rolling down the street, he maneuvered his three-wheeled auto to the curb, leaped out and prepared to retrieve it.

But another motorist sped past Feinberg and caught up with the runaway wheel. He picked it up, threw it in his car and drove away.

Watch Dog Watches Master
Elgin, Ill., May 1 (AP)—Scott Wiener says he has changed his opinion about his dog, which he had claimed the best watch dog in Elgin township.

While Wiener's dog was watching his master pick asparagus, a sneak thief looted Wiener's home of a watch and a purse containing $10.

Double Duty
Mexico, Mo., May 1 (AP)—Albert Tyree converted his milk truck into a volunteer fire department to put out a fire in an automobile along the side of a road. The grateful car owner paid for the 40 gallons of milk it took to do the job.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE REGIRA OF EARL BROWDER

Earl Browder, for many years the Koba of the American Communist Movement, was deprived of his authority and expelled from his party by order of the Third International, using Duclos, the French Communist, as a mouthpiece. He is now either on his way to or actually in Soviet Russia to appeal his case.

Curiously, this happened before. Back in 1929, Jay Lovestone and Ben Gitlow, Browder's predecessors, rushed off to Soviet Russia to appeal their cases. Stalin had decided that the American Communist party had to have an American facade. No more foreign names—Angloize them! No more foreign centers in the top leadership. American Communism had to be led by someone who looked like a typical American—Browder was born in Kansas of authentic Anglo-Saxon stock. Of course, he was not to be trusted too much; he might revert to the American type. He would be put in charge of unpublicized G.P.U. agents who would watch and instruct, watch and instruct.

So Jay Lovestone and Ben Gitlow were practically imprisoned in Russia until they were helped escape by Henry Yagoda of the G.P.U., who was then already scheming against Stalin, for which he was ultimately purged. And Browder became the American Koba—the American Stalin, boss of the little creatures who shriek and shout on parades and who blindly follow the dictates of a foreign master, who denounce and betray their country, its traditions, its history, its ideals; who change their names to confuse their fellow-citizens; who creep into government positions to spy and trick and confuse. Browder had a good job while it lasted.

Then a curious thing happened to Browder. The war came and Browder went patriotic. That, of course, was the party line and no one could question Browder's rigid adherence to the dogma handed down from the Throne of Peter the Great. But the unexpected psychological change that occurred in Earl Browder was that when the war was over, Browder found it difficult to switch out of his patriotism fast enough. He really believed in America. If anything, he reverted to Kansas. So they kicked him out of the American Communist party. They put in charge William Z. Foster, a weak and faltering man, with Eugene Dennis as the real master. No man has ever had to take the beating that Earl Browder was made to take. Every former associate, every subordinate, every personal friend, every party member who had ever had anything to do with him was required to write a letter to "The Daily Worker" and "The New Masses" denouncing Browder in the most vicious and abject terms. Men whom I have seen groveling before the Master now swatted him over the head with the pastiest accusations and denunciations.

Had I not witnessed, in America, where men can be free, this debasement of every human quality in obedience to orders from an alien political party, fearful of the purge, fearful of the G.P.U., fearful of the fate of Juliet Poyntz, Krivitsky, Resca, I might not have understood the self-denuciation, the self-emasculation, the reduction of man to a thing, so vividly described by Kravchenko in his book, "I Chose Freedom."

These Communists were Americans. They were free. They could stand up. But they whined, "I am a bum because I listened to Browder." It was a pitiful, disgusting spectacle. For weeks, each morning I read these auto-denuciations by men who switched their views and loyalties on a twenty-four hour notice.

Browder was denounced as an American bourgeois, a revisionist, a tool of Wall Street, a believer in private enterprise. He tried to defend his patriotism, his socialism, his Marxism, his loyalty to Stalin. They would not listen. Duclos had ordered his expulsion; he must be crushed.

So Browder now goes to the seat of the Most High. How he got even so far is a puzzle, but one that will be known in time. Maybe, Stalin feels the American people against Soviet Russia. If so, Browder may be restored and all those who denounced him will apologize to him. Maybe, it is something even more dramatic and ugly. We shall soon know.

HOMES GARDENS

Millions of people in Europe and Asiatic lands today look to America for food that will save their lives. One way in which many of us can help is through victory gardens.

Twenty million home gardens this year, a figure exceeding the highest goal established during the war years, has been set. Chester C. Davis, chairman of the President's Famine Emergency Committee, declares home gardens will help us conserve wheat by providing extra vegetables to make up for less bread and cereal. They will cushion against shortages which may develop here and there during the critical months. They will enable many more people to can and preserve foods, making it possible for them to donate more to collection campaigns for foreign relief.

Gardens will, in short, help us to meet our goals for export and protect us against shortages at home.

The trouble with Congress is that it hates to do what it thinks may be unpopular, yet that is the only way to solve many of our problems. And then, again, Congress might be guessing wrong as to what is popular. Public opinion is apt to be ahead of its representative body.

A NEW FRANCE

On the eve of the Big Four's Conference of Foreign Ministers in Paris, the French assembly announced a new Constitution which will be submitted for approval of French voters May 5. By a slim margin the Communist-Socialists won this constitution which replaces the present one adopted in 1875. It calls for one assembly, a body with more power than the British House of Commons, under which the French president would be merely a figurehead. The opposition, a coalition of conservatives, fought for a second chamber to replace the old senate and for a president with strong executive powers comparable to those of the President of the United States, but lost.

The new constitution contains a lengthy "Declaration of the Rights of Man", based on the 1789 French Revolution constitution and the American Bill of Rights as well as the Declaration of Independence. It provides for woman suffrage; democratic colonial government; freedom of thought, conscience and expression.

Freedom of the press was stricken out for fear of "press domination by vested interests." This was natural, considering the corrupt press from which France has suffered of late years. But the French will soon find press freedom necessary to preserve the other liberties.

What has happened to the Broadway crossing elimination project?

IGNORANCE IS FOLLY

"There is nothing worse in this world than an active ignorance." Goethe, nurtured in Germany long before Nazism, uttered those words. What would he think of his countrymen who permitted themselves the virulently active ignorance that closed their eyes and minds to anything beyond Hitlerite teachings? That led them, and half the world with them, to disaster? "Wisdom," the great Goethe continued "lies only in the truth."

While condemning the Nazi system of truth-distortion, Americans have need to beware of their own ignorances. Too many people brag about "not understanding" current issues. A 68-year-old retired business man, touring California, recently announced publicly that he hadn't read a newspaper in a month. The world was on the way to the dogs, said he, and he wasn't going to be bothered. Others, less forthright, read only the fumes, and sometimes the headlines. How many bother to become informed about what their representatives in Washington are doing? Who their local school board candidates are? The international program of the State Department? Current questions before U.N.?

The world suddenly has grown small. Its problems are within the reach and the re-

Can We Feed the World?

The bureaucrats of U. S. have decided to feed the world first, and U. S. last.

All this is very commendable; but the Government is hiding the facts. Can we do it?

There is much talk about cutting down our consumption of wheat flour; notably macaroni, spaghetti, and especially bread. This is O. K.

What about the grains that go into the production of animal feeds, especially dairy feeds? The average citizen, especially the city dweller doesn't realize the importance of feeding grains. The farmer is in the "know" and is already feeling the pinch.

Sales of chicken mash and scratch have been cut to a trickle. Hog rations are short and dairy feeds have been cut about in half. Every citizen should be made to realize the critical situation that this drastic cut in feeding grains is going to cause a little later. Chickens and eggs will be scarce, pork will be short; but worst of all; what is a 50 per cent cut in dairy feed going to do to our already shrinking milk supply?

We are not being told all the truth.

Wake up America! Have we won the war to lose the peace? Let's be generous but let's not be fools.

Leibhardt, April 30—There will be preaching service in the Methodist Church, Wednesday at 8 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Lorenz Prohl of Kerkonkson.

It was inadvertently reported last week that Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Franks and family of New Jersey spent the week-end at their cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moss and son, Paul, of New York spent part of their Easter vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pollack. They also visited friends in this area, Thursday.

The next Ulster county subdistrict meeting of the Dairymen's League will be held in the Reformed Church Hall, Accord, Friday at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Last week Mrs. Pollack entertained Mrs. J. Freedburgh and son, Arthur of Accord, also Mrs. D. Lupka of this area.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Markie recently spent an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lindgren.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Greer of Rochester Center were recent callers at the Gorsline and Markie homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gray of Walden and daughter, Mrs. S. L. Taylor of Walkkill, were guests on Sunday of the latter's sister, Mrs. Melinda Gorsline and family.

John Schedinger spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Rose Schedinger and brother, Harry, of Far Rockaway, L. I.

Mrs. Mary Austin has returned to her home in Rochester Center after spending several months with her son and wife in New Jersey.

Hippocrates, father of medicine, was born on the Island of Cos about 460 B. C.

TUBERCULOSIS

About 30 years ago, tuberculosis—the white plague—stood first as a cause of death. To treat this disease properly sanatoriums were established, usually in a dry high part of the state or province where the patient not only obtained a "cure" but learned how to take care of himself when he returned home and how to prevent others from being infected.

In 1913, a little over 30 years ago, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company established a sanatorium for their employees who had developed tuberculosis. This sanatorium was established in the foothills of the Adirondacks, treatment being absolutely free.

The Bulletin of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association states that the Metropolitan Insurance Company has through annual examination of the employees located cases in their early stages. Patients have been encouraged to remain at the sanatorium, Mt. McGregor, until their condition warranted returning to work. As there were no financial worries many patients have recovered with remarkable rapidity.

Since the sanatorium opened in 1913, 3,357 Metropolitan employees have been treated at Mt. McGregor. Now the number of patients has decreased to such an extent that there is no longer any need for such a large institution and so it is being closed. Henceforth patients will be treated at the company's expense in sanatoriums (sanatoria) located nearer to their homes.

What is the lesson for us as we remember that tuberculosis once heading the list as a cause of death is now a considerable way down the list and getting down lower every year?

"The Metropolitan Life has demonstrated what can be done by an organization which is guided by enlightened good will and prepared to provide the necessary equipment and facilities. For 32 years the company has maintained a systematic program of tuberculosis control among its employees. Today this has borne fruit. At a time when public health can be maintained, this company's experience comes as convincing proof that tuberculosis can be wiped out in our generation."

Sanitation Necessary for Success With Iris

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

SANITATION is of vital importance in the culture of iris and careful attention to it will prevent many diseases of the plants which if carried over the winter may become epidemic the following year.

Be alert for the appearance of leaf spot in iris. It usually develops soon after the plants have flowered. The best method of control is to remove and burn any leaves with the telltale markings shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

If iris are at all crowded in their beds, the leaves should be cut back to allow sun and air to reach the tops of the roots, or rhizomes.

If you find the edges of young iris leaves have been gnawed, as illustrated, you can suspect the pest known as iris borer.

The moth of the iris borer lays eggs at the base of the leaves in the fall. These eggs hatch out in April of the following year. Spraying the plantings with a dormant oil will destroy the eggs. If the eggs are not thus destroyed caterpillars hatch out and begin feeding on the edges of the foliage.

Cutting off and burning the ragged leaves at this time will destroy the tiny pests. As the caterpillars grow they work themselves into the leaves eating the tender "water-soaked" spots. At this time the pests can be killed by piercing with a wire, although it is tedious work.

After the iris plant has bloomed the borer works its way into the roots. Here it eats away sections of the rhizome, sometimes leaving nothing but a shell of the root.

Does Byrnes Proposal Mean There Is Lack of Faith in United Nations Organization? That Is Big Query in Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 1—Why what is being done by the Russian armies of occupation is designed to exterminate Fascism, spring on the world a proposal for a treaty of 25 years duration that binds Russia, American, Britain and France to a guarantee against possible aggression by Germany? One might have supposed that the United Nations would see to it that there would be no aggression by Germany or any other nation. Does this mean then that there is any lack of faith in the United Nations organization?

These questions were being asked here today as a consequence of the rather sensational move in Paris by Secretary Byrnes. Indeed, the treaty was a complete surprise to official Washington. Even the joint chiefs of staff and the military folks generally didn't have any word about it in advance. They naturally favor the plan and probably would have approved it but the important fact is that the whole thing has been kept a secret, though work has progressed on it in the Department of State for several months.

Not the idea itself the product of the administration's thinking alone. Senator Vandenberg proposed the same thing in a speech a year or so ago, which is an indication that the measure will have strong support from both major parties if it comes before the Senate.

The basic reason for the proposition has to do with the way matters have shaped up in the world since V-J Day. Russia has been operating on a one-sided basis throughout eastern Europe. In the Russian zone of occupation in Germany, the Russians are plainly violating the Potsdam agreement. They are communizing eastern Germany. The whole Russian policy in demanding friendly states on their borders and the oft-repeated cry of "security" are based on the hypothesis that Germany is planning new aggression.

To clinch that theory and to reveal to all the world that there is no need for Russian fears or for her expansion under the guise of "security," the Byrnes-Vandenberg treaty now is offered. It is apparent that Molotov was caught by surprise. He doesn't know quite what to make of it.

But here is a treaty made to order for Russia. Once she accepts it, there can be no justification for arguing on every occasion that

STAMPS in the NEWS

AP Features

Following the example of Australia and New Zealand, other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations are planning special stamp issues to commemorate the return of peace. The Australian and New Zealand issues, announced recently, have now arrived in this country.

A two-stamp set consisting of 30-cent and one dollar values is being prepared for Hong Kong, according to J. and H. Stolow of New York. The design will feature a phoenix rising from the ashes of war. A portrait of King George VI, the date "1941-1945" and Chinese inscriptions reading "China and Britain Perpetually at Peace" and "The Phoenix Rises in Prosperity" complete the design. Peace commemoratives also are a five centavos stamp April 12 to mark the first anniversary of President Roosevelt's death. ... Greece has marked the tenth anniversary of its liberation from the Venizelos with two stamps bearing his portrait. ... Switzerland is scheduled to issue a 1.50 franc "Pro Aereo" stamp May 1. ... A new Guatemalan stamp features Jose Batres Montufar, a post. ... Newfoundland has overprinted its 30-cent stamp to reduce its value to two cents.

An obvious propaganda label designed to represent a postage stamp is the stickers on the seal illustrated here which recently has been circulated in Madrid, Spain. The picture is a poor likeness of Don Juan, pretender to the throne of Spain, with an evident attempt to emphasize the Bourbon note. As indicated at the top of the sticker, should Don Juan, now living in Lisbon, ascend to the Spanish throne, he would become "Juan XIII." Although obviously not a postage stamp, the sticker comes so close to resembling one that it might fool even the postman.

The honorable discharge to be placed on sale May 5 will be purple in color. The Post Office Department has announced: Originally it was hoped that the stamp honoring II would be bi-colored, with a discharge emblem in its name gold color. The department has ordered an initial printing of 100,000 stamps.

Errico-Palladino Nuptials in Highland

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Palladino of Highland have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Marie Palladino, to Joseph Errico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Errico of New Rochelle. The ceremony was performed at double ring rites in St. Augustine's Church, Highland, Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Joseph Crew.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white brocade with lace and tulle edged with lace and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white orchids and sweet peas. Her sister, Mrs. Josephine Rhodes was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Mildred Bezzaro, Florence Pascale, Reta Palladino, Pauline Errico and Eleanor Palladino. Marie Constantino was flower girl. They wore gowns of pastel shades with matching headpieces and carried shower bouquets of sweet peas.

Anthony Errico was his brother's best man. Ushers were Dominick Constantino, Daniel and Frank Errico, Dominic and William Palladino, William Piner, a nephew of the bridegroom, acted as the flower girl's escort.

The bride is a graduate of Highland High School and the Practical School of Nursing in New York. She is employed at the White Swan Uniform Co. A veteran of three years with the army, Mr. Errico is employed at King Kullen Market, Mt. Vernon. He is a graduate of New Rochelle High School and a member of the Holy Name Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Errico will make their home in New Rochelle upon their return from Bangor, Me.

Vivian Cook Is Bride Of Paul Joseph Brady

Miss Vivian Virginia Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur D. Cook, 166 Wrentham street, was united in marriage to Paul Joseph Brady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Brady, 127 West 90th street, New York city, Saturday at 3 p. m. The wedding took place at St. Mary's Church with the Rev. John J. Drew officiating.

Theodore Riccobono as organist played the traditional wedding marches. Miss Mary Qualtere sang, "Panis Angelicus." The church was decorated with palms, cala lilies and stocks.

Mr. Cook gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a street length dress of beige champagne crepe with brown accessories and a corsage of orchids. Mrs. John S. McLees, sister of the bridegroom, of Washington, D. C., was matron of honor. She wore a dusty rose two-piece suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Frank Flanagan of New York city acted as best man.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue floral print dress with navy accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a black suit with black accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the immediate families at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The bride's table was decorated with a large floral centerpiece and white candles and a three tiered wedding cake. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Brady left for a wedding trip to Miami Beach, Fla. For traveling she chose an olive green gabardine suit with brown accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon their return they will make their home in New York city.

Mrs. Brady was graduated from Kemsville High School, Norfolk, Va., and attended International Business Machine School. She was employed as key punch operator in Poughkeepsie. Mr. Brady is employed at Hunter College. He was discharged from the navy December 20, after four years service, the last nine months of which were spent in the South Pacific area.

Registrations Open For Triangle Acres Y.W. Summer Camp

Mrs. F. P. Merritt, chairman of the camp committee of the Y. W. C. A. announced today that registrations are being taken for the 1946 season of Camp Triangle Acres, Miss Matilda Martin at the Y. W. C. A. is registrar. The camp is open for girls from 8 to 16 years. All applications will be considered in the order in which they are received at the Y. W. C. A. office.

This year for the first time, the camp will run for six weeks for the younger girls of Kingston and vicinity. In 1943 the camping season for younger girls was increased from three to four weeks and now, just three years later, it is being increased again by two weeks.

Another new departure planned for this year is the division of the camping season in two three week periods. The first runs from June 30 to July 20 and the second from July 21 to August 10.

Registrations are now being accepted for either three week period, or for shorter time if that is desired. In the event that registrations are not completed by June 1, the committee will consider applications for the total six week period. At present however, the maximum time allowed is three weeks in order to accommodate all the girls who might like to attend camp.

Attractive folders about the camp have been prepared by the camp committee and may be secured from the registrar at the Y. W. C. A. office. The camp committee includes Mrs. Merritt, chairman, Mrs. John Herlihy, Mrs. Kenneth Kukul, Mrs. Clifford Smith, Mrs. A. Noble Graham, Miss Mildred Simmons, Miss Elma Smith and Mrs. Clifford Rose, ex-officio.

Prospects Are Bright for Outdoor Boxing Shows at Stadium; Kingston and Middletown to Open DUSO Season on Friday

Brown Is Slated For Mound Duties In Local Opener

Chris Lay Is Expected to Do Catching for Maroon; Wittman Is Nominee for Middles

Idle since their game at Arlington, April 24, Coach Pete Hatch and his Kingston High School baseball team will swing back into action Friday afternoon at municipal stadium when Middletown High School appears here for the opening of the local diamond season and also the inaugural of the DUSO Baseball League. Kingston was rained out of its scheduled game with the N.Y.M.A. Cadets at Cornwall last Saturday.

After being forced indoors Monday afternoon due to bad weather, the Maroon and White team got back into action at the stadium field yesterday and plan for another drill today.

Brown Will Hurl

"Tex" Brown, who tossed that one-hitter against Arlington in the first game of the season, had been nominated by Hatch to twirl the DUSO opener Friday. "Red" Gorsline had been tagged to pitch last Saturday against Cornwall. He'll be ready to go if Brown meets with any trouble.

Bobby Wittman or Clyde Thornton is expected to do the hurrying for Middletown Friday afternoon. Thornton being a six-hitter against Warwick recently when the Middletown triumphed by 6 to 2.

Saturday's postponement also proved to be another thorn in Coach Hatch's side as he was unable to test his rookie catcher, Tom Larson. Although he hasn't made any definite selections, the Maroon manager is expected to use Chris Lay back of the plate Friday. Lay caught Brown in the opener and is figured to get the call again. "I don't know how Tom will stand up under pressure," Hatch told a reporter, "or otherwise there would be no question of his starting the game."

Outside of the catching post, the rest of the Maroon nine in Friday's contest will be the same as that which started the Arlington game. The infield will see Bill Crosby on first, Bill Glaser second, "Red" Gorsline at shortstop and Mike Rennie holding down the hot corner post. Bobby Roe, Dick Dunlin and Ken Lowe will patrol the outfield.

Both squads seem to be equal in the hitting department. Kingston has 11 hits gathered by the Maroon in the Arlington game. George Glaser, who hit a home run and two doubles seemed to be leading the parade. Other boys who showed power at the plate were Ken Lowe, Bobby Roe, Gorsline, Mike Rennie and "Tex" Brown.

If you've been trying one blade after another, searching for the better shave, get a pack of Pals today. See if you don't agree that "This is it!"

Ordinary safety razor blades are ground like a pocket knife. Pal Blades are different—they're Leather Stripped and Hollow—ground just like a barber's razor.

Result: Pal Blades are flexible in your razor—follow facial contours effortlessly. Your shave is cool, quick, no "beating down." And delicate edges last longer, too. That's why millions call it the Pal.

SCOREBOARD

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bobby Feller's brilliant no-hit, no-run job against the New York Yankees should still once and for all the springtime rumors that Rapid Robert had lost his fast one.

"My fast ball was my best pitch all the way," Feller said in the clubhouse after the ball game, "but I also used a lot of curves and sliders. I believe I had better stuff than when I pitched my other no-hitter against the White Sox in the 1940 opener."

Feller was amused and slightly peeved about reports he was "slipping." Before the game, Manager Lou Boudreau shrugged off questions about Feller with a quiet, "wait until after the game and then talk to me." After the game, nobody asked any questions.

Has 39 Strikeouts

Feller now has 39 strikeouts victims in four games, counting the 11 whiffed in yesterday's 1-0 Cleveland victory over New York. He walked five Yanks in chucking his second no-hitter, becoming one of a select group of 11 who have done the trick in the history of the majors. Two hurlers, Lawrence Corcoran of the Chicago Cubs and Cy Young of Cleveland and Boston (both leagues) have greater credit but even that mark is not out of Feller's reach.

It was the second near perfect game in a week as Ed Head of Brooklyn had throttled Boston without a safety last Tuesday. Never in the history of the Yankee Stadium had the home club been held hitless and a Yankee team hadn't gone without a safe blow in a game since 1919 when Ray Caldwell, another Cleveland pitcher, did the trick.

$7,144 Set Game

Floyd Bevens matched Feller's egg for egg up to the ninth when Frankie Hayes, Bobby's batterymate, planted a home run in the left field stands. The Tribe ace had a close call in the ninth when an error, sacrifice and an infield out moved George Starnweiss around to third with two out. Charley Keller rolled out to Second Baseman Ray Mack to lift the suspense and loosen a throaty roar from the banner weekday crowd of 37,144 fans.

Only two others reached second base and both died there as Feller was superb under pressure. The only fielding play of note was a sparkler by Boudreau who raced second base from his shortstop post to grab the roller of Starnweiss' bat and throw him out by a step in the first inning.

Dobson Halts Bengals

Feller's sterling job overshadowed a fine effort by Joe Dobson of the Boston Red Sox who handed Detroit's Hal Newhouser his club's American League lead to two full games. Dobson, an ex-G.I., allowed only three hits in racking up his third straight victory.

Ray Scarborough turned in a winning performance for Washington, outpointing Ed Lopat of Chicago, 3-2, with the help of Buddy Lewis' tie-breaking double scoring Al Evans in the seventh.

The Philadelphia Athletics outscored the St. Louis Browns, 12-8, in a wild affair in which eight pitchers saw action. Starter Russ Christopher was the victor and Tex Shirley, who opened for the Browns, was the loser.

The Chicago Cubs knocked the Brooklyn Dodgers out of the National League lead with an 11th inning 2-1 victory. Relief pitcher Casey passed Dominic Dilesandro with the sacks loaded to help Fireman Emil Kish grab his third straight win.

Cardinals in First

Although rain and wet grounds forced postponement of their game with New York, the idle St. Louis Cardinals took over first place by a half game. A Cincinnati-Boston series opener also was washed out.

Pittsburgh broke out with three runs in the eighth inning to snap a 1-1 tie and assure the Pirates of a 4-1 nod over the Phillies. Pitcher Tommy Hughes' wild peg let in two tallies and Bob Elliott's double drove in the third to save a victory for Relief Jack Hallett and snap a three-game Buc losing streak.

Houston, Texas—Kid Filipo, 142½, Nogales, outpointed Clarence King, 139½, Miami, Fla. 10.

New York—Lenny "Boom Boom" Mancini, 147½, Youngstown, outpointed Vic Costa, 146½, New York, 8.

Youngstown, Ohio—Tommy Bell, 148½, Youngstown, outpointed Bobby Simmons, 144½, Indianapolis, 10.

New York—Steve Belloise, 161, New York, knocked out Johnny Jones, 155, Pittsburgh, 4.

Final City League Meeting Is Slated For This Evening

Team Managers Will Meet at Recreation Offices at 7:30 P. M.; May Start Next Week

The final organizational meeting of the City Baseball League will be held tonight at the recreation offices, 97 Broadway, at 7:30 o'clock sharp. All team managers who have franchises in the loop are urged to attend the important session.

At the last meeting of the league managers nine clubs were represented and presented entries to the league secretary. Teams competing in the circuit are Perry's Service Station, Grunwald's, Texas Lunch Cardinals, Jay-Rich, Ertels, Morgan, New York Central, Jones Dairy and the Gov. Clinton Market. All managers or official representatives of these clubs are expected to attend.

This evening's parley is expected to round up the pre-season plans for the league, according to spokesmen of the loop. Providing all business necessary for the opening is transacted at tonight's session, it is anticipated that the first postwar edition of the City League will open sometime next week.

Warren Smith, recently elected president, will preside at the meeting.

Hurls No-Hitter

Bob Feller, Cleveland Indian fireballer, hung up his second no-hitter Tuesday when he hand-cuffed the New York Yankees at the stadium before 38,112 fans.

The Indians, behind Rapid Robert, defeated the Yanks by the score of 1 to 0 when Frankie Hayes connected for a homer in the ninth inning. Feller's first no-hitter came against the Chicago White Sox on opening day in 1940. Tuesday Feller struck out 11 Yankee batsmen and issued five walks.

Riphey Is Winner Of Derby Trial Run at Louisville

Virginia-Born Horse Takes Decision Over Sloppy Track; Spy Song Finishes Second

Louisville, Ky., May 1 (AP)—William Helis must be convinced that horse-buying is a funny business, because he can now boast of paying $66,000 for one gee-gee which turned out to be the most expensive "pet" in history—and only $12,000 to get the latest glamour boy in Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

This is not saying that Riphey is wearing that necklace of roses already, because the Derby dandies still have to run a mile and a quarter around the race track, and Lord Boswell and Knockdown still are the young men most likely to succeed in a field that appears virtually certain to number 17 horses for this 72nd get-together.

Chances Are Good

But off his smashing score in the Derby trial mile yesterday, the Virginia-born swiftie might very well be the one they'll be hanging that lavalliere of buds on late Saturday afternoon.

Of course, in this widest open Derby in years any horse might hit the jackpot. Even Charlie Fisher's Spy Song, although the fish seemed to turn in his ticket when Riphey issued a challenge in the stretch yesterday left considerably more than a few doubters among the 20,000 or so at the Downs.

The mud-running Riphey gave definite proof that he's just about as sharp as you'll find around Churchill Downs right now, especially if it comes up slop, as it did yesterday.

All of which just goes to show you never can tell, when you're buying a horse, whether you'll get Man O'War or something suited for hauling a milk-wagon. Back a few years ago, Helis went for Pericles—and Pericles turned out to be more interested in nibbling sugar from his owner's hand than in trying to pay off the oat-bill.

Two years ago, the Golden Creek from New Orleans bid in a handsome sum of $12,000 at the Keeneland sales. That was Riphey, and for a while one never got to the post last year—he looked as good as victory might be interested in being a no-running mate to Pericles. But he went to the races in Florida last winter, won first out by six lengths in a buck-jump, finished second in his next start a week ago, and rang the cash register for $9,775 yesterday.

Favorites on Hand

Although Mrs. Graham's big horse—Lord B and Knockdown—and last Saturday's Chesapeake winner, Hampden, were sitting around taking things easy while all this was going on, virtually all the rest of the fancier favorites for Saturday's scramble were on hand.

Assault, the Texas stepper was there and all he could get was fourth money, and Marine Victory, the front-running Marylander, ambled home sixth, just a length in front of Warren Wright's pint-sized Earnest, who didn't appear to like the going, but is still the most-favored dark horse in the field. In ninth place was the Canadian cyclone, Wee Admiral, who wasn't cycloning a bit.

The race eliminated only one horse from the Derby field. This was Double Sam, pride and joy of J. Graham Brown, Louisville hotel owner. He finished eighth, then joined Mrs. Vera S. Bragg's Mist O'Gold, who has a fever, on the sidelines for Saturday.

Ben Becker, A.A.U. Boss, Expresses Desire to Help Promote Boxing in This City

Benny Leonard, former lightweight champion of the world, may enter the local boxing picture soon.

He and Ben M. Becker of Albany, who has been identified with amateur boxing for more than 15 years, have almost completed plans to open a gymnasium in the capital city as a training center.

Announcement Later

"We are not ready for a formal announcement yet," Becker told a Freeman reporter in a recent chat while they discussed the revival of boxing in Kingston.

Becker, who served as a lieutenant commander in the navy for four years, said he and Leonard hope to develop a lot of amateurs with intentions of sending them into the professional ranks when they have learned enough about the sport.

Adams Says More Giants Will Jump To Mexican Loop

Mexico City, May 1 (AP)—Pitcher Ace Adams, emigre No. 10 from the New York Giants, has reported to Jorge Pasquel's Mexican Baseball League and predicts there will be more Giants down here soon. He did not mention any names.

Adams, who arrived last night accompanied by Robert Janis of New York, Mexican League scout, was billed for introduction at this afternoon's Mexico City-Tampico game here.

Adams said Harry Feldman, his Giant moundmate, stopped at his home in Tallahassee, Fla., en route to Mexico, and will report here next week.

Central Rec and Major Loop Keglers Receive Awards on Tuesday Night at Evergreens

Another successful bowling season was brought to a close Tuesday evening when the combined Central Rec and Major Leagues held their annual post-season turkey banquet at the Evergreens on Albany avenue extension. George Robinson, secretary of both loops, awarded prizes to the various bowlers.

Throughout the evening short addresses were made by Mayor William Edmuth, Jack Martin, president of the Central Rec League; Addison Jones, president of the Kingston Bowling Association; Peter Keresman, honorary president of the K.B.A.; Ben Krom, Charlie Tiano, Freeman staff reporter; Irwin J. Thomas, Freeman sports editor; Don Ecker, Kingston Daily Leader and Secretary Robinson.

Keresman Toastmaster

Mr. Keresman, who acted as toastmaster for the occasion, went on record Tuesday evening in support of the present drive to abolish future handicaps in the Kingston Major League. "Teams in that loop have graduated far enough now to do away with the handicap," he said, and he urged all concerned to do their best in bringing about the end of it.

The toastmaster also issued a cordial invitation to all former bowling G. I.'s who have returned to attend the gala Welcome Home Party at the municipal auditorium, Wednesday evening, May 8. "Our party," Keresman said, "is the only known event to be sponsored for the returning leggers and we sincerely hope it will be a great success."

The toastmaster added that he had received the official blessing from the American Bowling Congress for arranging such an enterprise.

Addison Jones, who presented A.B.C. medals to Jack Martin for his 1-2 high single game in the Central Rec and to Johnny Ferraro for his tremendous 299 in the Major League, also voiced hope that during the 1946-47 bowling season members of the Major League would abolish the handicap system. "The influx of returning G. I.'s who bowled with enough 180 average men," Jones declared, "and by doing away with the handicap our league will gain in prestige."

Nurses Aide Plan To Be Abandoned

Health Heads, Hospitals Agree on Discontinuance

The Red Cross Nurses Aide Committee yesterday announced the discontinuance of the Nurses Aide Program following a lengthy meeting with local health agencies.

The decision to terminate the excellent wartime program was based on existing conditions. The national policy provides that the nurses program will be "a continuing and permanent one, but dependent to its extent in any chapter upon local community needs."

Consultations with local hospitals and the Public Health Department established the fact that the nurses aide program could be terminated without seriously affecting local health requirements.

During the war the local chapter trained 64 young women to assist in the local hospitals and clinics under the supervision of professional nurses. Those volunteers served a total of 8,321 hours.

Walter K. Hubbard, Red Cross chapter executive director, commenting on the volunteer assistance, said: "Their patriotic and faithful service has created among us a feeling of the greatest respect and admiration as well as a deep sense of gratitude for a job well done."

The chapter's executive committee, nurses and the Public Health Department, expressed their appreciation of the splendid service rendered by the program.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Lauretta M. Mills

In loving memory of our wife and mother, who passed away May 1, 1945.

If all the world was ours to give, We would give it, yes and more; To clasp the hand of mother dear, And see her smile once more.

And those who have a mother, Treasure her with care; For you will never know her value, Till you see her empty chair.

HUSBAND, SON and DAUGHTER-IN-LAW and GRANDCHILDREN

MEMORIAM

In memory of Thomas N. Rafferty who died one year ago today, May 1, 1945.

Gone one year but leaving memories, death can never take away. Memories that will always linger while upon this earth we stay. Though his smile is gone forever, and his face we cannot touch, We shall never lose sweet memories of the one we loved so much.

offering presented an unexpected threat to the loan bill. Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) told a reporter that within the next day or two he will move a point of order, a parliamentary maneuver which if sustained would bring Senate consideration of the loan to an immediate halt.

Johnson said he will contend that the bill under which Congress would approve the financial arrangements made with the British is a revenue-raising measure and, under the Constitution, must be approved by the House before the Senate can act.

By custom, Johnson's point of order would go to a direct vote of the Senate without a ruling by the presiding officer, because a constitutional question is involved. The point might, however, be a subject of lengthy debate itself.

"This is a serious question," Johnson said, "and the Senate will have to decide the matter itself."

As Johnson said he well knew, some members who have not been able to make up their minds whether to support or oppose the loan plan might find it easy to back a constitutional point of order that would pass the loan bill over the House. Most publicly recorded opponents of the loan are expected to line up behind the move.

Quarterly Conference Is Held in A.M.E. Church

At the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church last Sunday, the Rev. J. H. Tucker of Peekskill, presiding elder of the Hudson River District of New York Conference, was present and delivered the sermon. The Rev. Mr. Tucker also held the fourth quarterly conference of the church for the year.

All of the church boards and working auxiliaries made quarterly and annual reports of the year's activities.

Henry Van DerZee was chosen delegate and Mrs. Essie Hardin as alternate to the annual conference which will take place at the A. M. E. Zion Church in Brooklyn, June 19. Bishop William J. Walls of Chicago, Ill., will preside. The delegate will be instructed to petition Bishop Walls for the return of the Rev. Stephen D. Conrad as pastor for another year and also the re-assignment of the Rev. J. H. Tucker as presiding elder.

O.P.A. Extension Asked

Washington, May 1 (AP)—The Advisory Board of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion unanimously urged today that the life of O.P.A. be extended for a period not to exceed one year.

Reconversion Director John W. Snyder released a resolution adopted by the board as Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told the Senate Banking Committee that increased farm real estate prices are "a strong argument for holding onto price control." The resolution said termination of price control must be brought about without unnecessary delay and in an orderly manner.

RESOLUTIONS

WHEREAS, the Town Board of Esopus of Ulster County has learned with profound sorrow of the death on April 8, 1946, of George W. Ross, M.D., a resident of Port Ewen for 47 years; and for 20 years Town Health Officer; and WHEREAS, Dr. Ross was appointed Health Officer over 20 years ago, and served in said capacity faithfully and well to all the people of this Township until his death; and

WHEREAS, we honor Dr. Ross for his integrity, fine professional skill, sincerity and sound business judgment, not only in the affairs of the Town of Esopus and his associated interests, but above all, we esteem him for his qualities as a man, his patience, generosity, free service to the poor, kindness, his charities and uniform consideration for all with whom he came in contact. His passing is like the falling of a great oak in the forest.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that deeply aware of the loss sustained, the Town Board of Esopus, Ulster County, hereby expresses its deep and sincere sorrow at the death of Dr. Ross and its sympathy for his family, and directs that this resolution be spread in full upon its records and a copy thereof forwarded to his family.

ALICE TYNNE,

Town Clerk.

No Prospect of Senate Vote Against Rent Control

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Senators Wagner (D-N.Y.) and Buck (R-Del.) agreed today that there was no prospect of the Senate's voting to end rent controls.

The point has been raised before the Senate Banking Committee in its consideration of legislation to extend O.P.A. beyond its June 30 expiration date. Wagner is chairman of the committee and Buck is one of its most regular attendants.

"I see no possibility of the Senate voting to take the ceiling off rents," Wagner said. "Not even the House went that far."

Wagner was referring to the trimmed-down O.P.A. bill which the House has passed.

Buck said that while he saw no likelihood of lifting controls, he was not so sure about the possibility of action to permit a percentage increase in recent ceilings.

George M. Englar, president of the National Apartment Owners Association, told the committee yesterday that, if denied a 15 per cent increase in rents, his association will demand total elimination of rent controls.

Truman Support Reported

Washington, May 1 (AP)—White House Secretary Charles G. Ross said today that the plan for four-power control of Germany for 25 years has President Truman's "complete support."

Ross told a news conference the proposal, laid before the foreign ministers' conference in Paris by Secretary of State Byrnes, "is entirely in conformity" with Mr. Truman's ideas.

Scout Council Rejects East Jewett Dam Bid

At a meeting of the executive board of the Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts, Monday night, one bid was received for the building of a dam at the East Jewett campsite. The bid was rejected as excessive. The board will readvertise for bids.

It is hoped that the dam can be constructed and made ready for use by the Scouts this summer.

Work of moving some of the camp equipment to the new site already has begun and it is hoped that a quantity of surplus government equipment can be secured.

Present plans for the summer camping include the use of the recreation hall for a dining room and the construction of a temporary kitchen, until permanent buildings can be erected.

Warns End of Marines

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal declared today that "swift abolition of the Marine Corps" is a possibility under the proposed legislation of the armed services.

He warned the Senate Naval Committee against "concentration of power in the hands of one man, the idea of 'merge now and organize later,' and curtailing naval aviation and the Marine Corps."

Raymond Winne Burned Critically In Blast on Solar

terday while the Solar was unloading ammunition at the pier—longest of its kind in the world. The Earle Navy Ammunition Depot built in 1943 on the thinly populated shores of Sandy Hook Bay is the largest naval munitions storehouse in the east.

Some eyewitness accounts said the first blast took place when a "hedgehog" went off in the hands of a seaman. (A "hedgehog" is a depth charge used against submarines).

Senior Served on Solar

Jacob Senior, one of the proprietors of the S. & C. Lunch on the Strand, served 16 months on the U. S. Destroyer Solar during the recent World War. The greater part of the time the Solar was assigned to duty in the Mediterranean.

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED—DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got E.R.B.-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get E.R.B.-HELP. Sold by All Drug Stores here in Kingston.

Moose Softballers
To Drill Tonight

Practice Is Scheduled at

Hasbrouck Park

Members of the Moose softball team will hold an important practice session at Hasbrouck Park

this evening at 6 o'clock sharp.

Manager Ray Avery announced this morning. All players are requested to attend.

Manager Avery also told The Freeman this morning that final arrangements have been made to enter the local Order of Moose team in the New York State League.

According to present plans the first local game will be played Friday, May 17.

The following players and others desiring to place their name on the club's roster are urgently requested to be at the practice tonight: Joe Bonavito, Lacy Burger,

Joe Myers, Irv Van Kleeck, Tom

Wolf, Jr., Gil Adin, Ad Stumpf,

Dick Williams, Harold Pincus,

Adam Geuse, Sid Black, Bill

Brooks, "Puck" Davis, John

Gazani, John Battiglinio and Joseph

Fadoul.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

3. This golfer is swinging a No.

3 wood and the club is about to contact the ball. Notice that with

tioned an inch or two farther from the direction line than the right. And the left foot is angled slightly more toward the green.

This permits a full rounded finish.

Now notice the diagonal line

shoulder is rising as it should, permitting the right shoulder to pivot down and under the chin. The left hip has pivoted back out of the way of the arms and hands, for a full follow-through. Most of the weight is on the left leg, but the right toe still has a firm grip on the ground. At the point pictured, all the forces contributing to a smooth, rhythmic, powerful swing have now reached the maximum and the club is at its greatest velocity just before impact.

When the hands have reached hiphigh, on the follow-through, then this player will rotate his head to look after the ball—but not before.

Strike Hits Atlanta

Atlanta, May 1 (P)—Public transportation with a normal load of half a million persons daily was paralyzed by a strike here today.

Union officials said no further conferences toward a settlement were planned. A walkout of 1,350 street car and bus operators began at midnight, three hours after a mass union vote rejected a compromise agreement reached by negotiators.

When Mark Twain was making one of his European tours, an Englishman startled him by saying abruptly: "Mr. Clemens, I would give Ten Pounds not to have read your 'Huckleberry Finn'!"

And as Mark looked up, awaiting an explanation of this extraordinary remark, the Englishman smiled and added: ".....so that I could again have the great pleasure of reading it for the first time."

A pious lady who lived by herself was quite "put out" because her neighbors had not invited her to go with them on a picnic. On the morning of the outing, however, the picknickers relented and asked her to join them. "It's too late," she snapped, "I've already prayed for rain."

Friend—Joe, how do you expect to accomplish anything with three good looking stenographers in your office?

Man—by giving two of them a day off.

Most men can enjoy fun and then dismiss it from the mind; but some women's minds don't work that way. They just don't dismiss anything from anywhere anytime.

A woman says her husband always is kicking about the meals: "We—Why don't you let him cook them himself?"

Woman—I do, and that's what he's kicking about.

The doctors motto: A fee in the hand is worth two on the book.

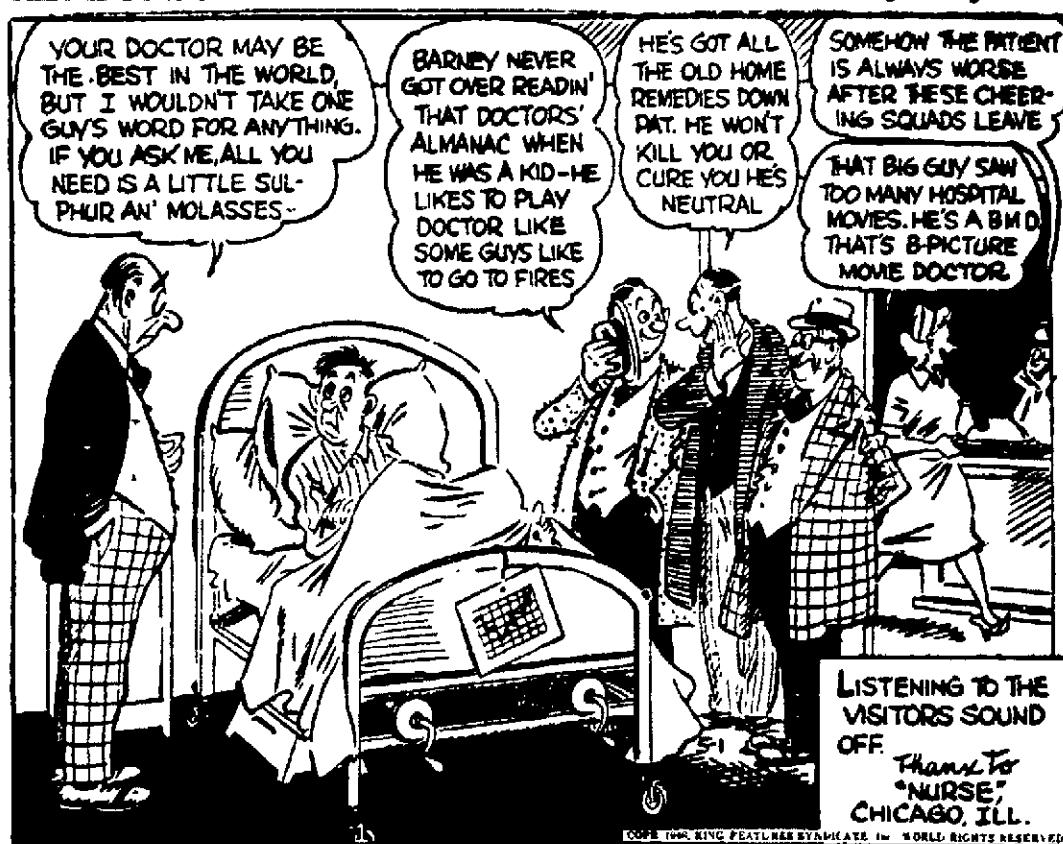

An invitation to dinner had been sent to the newly-settled physician. In reply, the hostess received an absolutely illegible letter. "I must know if he accepts or refuses," she declared.

were you, I would take it to a druggist. They can always read doctor's writing, however badly it is.

The druggist looked at the slip of note paper, went into his dispensary and returned in a few minutes with a bottle.

Druggist—There you are, madame. That will be 75 cents.

Lumber is so scarce, superstitious Sam, isn't even able to knock on wood.

Brotherhood

Look carefully to others' needs. And daily do some kindly deeds; its tasks like this that make for good. And help to build true brotherhood.

Curious geographical fact: At

At a separation center on the West Coast, the officer asked a Chinese G.I.:

Officer—Name?

Chinese G.I. (proudly)—Sneeze.

Officer (demanding)—Is that a Chinese name?

Officer—Then let's have your native name.

Chinese G.I.—Ah Choo.

Widower (to his 10-year-old daughter)—And, Rose, did you know that Bernice, our housekeeper, is going to get married?

Daughter—Oh, I'm so glad we're getting rid of that old pelican. Won't it be fun with just you and me at home? But who in the world would even think of marrying her?

Widower (stammering)—We-ell, I am.

Students Are Injured

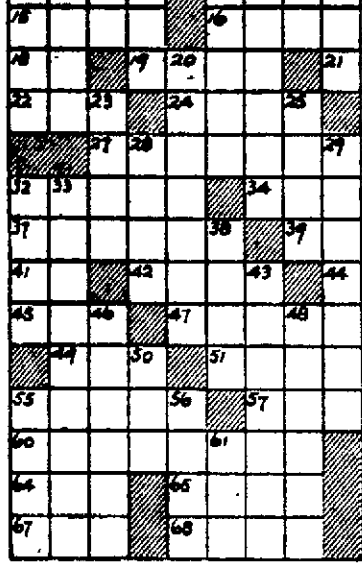

Alexandria, Egypt, April 30 (AP)—Twelve university students were reported injured today, three seriously, when police fired into a crowd in an attempt to break up a demonstration here. The students struck in protest against a published report that Britain would retain control of four airports in Egypt.

Esther Roth Engaged To Reuben Marcus

Mrs. Ida Roth of Harrisburg, Pa., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Esther Roth, to Reuben Marcus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Marcus of 57 Meadow street. The wedding date has not been set.

Miss Roth is now making her home with Mrs. Harry Gallop on the Strand. Mr. Marcus recently received his discharge from the army.

Marion Sahler Speaks
To Hospital Auxiliary

Mrs. Marion E. Sahler of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association office, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of Kingston Hospital Auxiliary at the Nurses' Home, Tuesday afternoon. Her topic was "What Nutrition Means to You."

In introducing her subject she remarked that there was a wide difference between a passable health and buoyant health and to some extent the person may have a choice by selecting the proper food for nutrition. She spoke of experiments made in eating the food of an average menu and one carefully balanced for vital food factors and vitamin supplies. Mrs. Sahler warned the group not to depend on vitamin pills for health but rather to plan meals including the necessary vitamins. In this manner she suggested that the chance of developing tuberculosis, other diseases and poor health would wane.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. R. Frederic Chidsey, president, plans for improvement to be made at the hospital this summer were discussed. Resolutions were adopted on the deaths of three members: Mrs. William S. Campbell, Mrs. Hermon A. Kelley, and Mrs. Ralph J. Gregory. Mrs. John Schomer was welcomed as a new member.

Arrangements were made to hold a dessert bridge at the May meeting, May 28, at 1:30 p. m. for members only. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Parker K. Brinnier, Mrs. Willis Locke, Mrs. Henry C. Page, Mrs. George Kernochan, and Mrs. C. Effingham Burnett.

During the social hour tea was served with Mrs. Chidsey presiding at the table. A centerpiece of various colored tulips with lighted white tapers was arranged on the table. Mrs. Edward H. Remmert, Mrs. Sam McKinney and Mrs. Fred J. K. Ertel were hostesses for the afternoon.

Baptist Ladies' Aid

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of First Baptist Church was held in the church parlors Tuesday evening. The society heard annual reports which marked a successful year.

Officers elected for next year are Mrs. George B. Matthews, president; Mrs. Raymond H. Wood, vice president; Mrs. Emory Crow, secretary and Mrs. Erwin E. Crow, treasurer.

Personal Notes

Miss Florence Cordts of Lindley avenue and her nieces, the Misses Louise K. and Carol Marie Cordts of West Chestnut street have returned from Washington, D. C., where they spent Easter week.

Trinity Lutheran Has Welcome Home For Returned Vets

Lutheran Parish Has 144
Names on Honor Roll; 103 Back
as Civilians

That there is no question as to the warm place the boys of Trinity Lutheran Church, who have been in service, hold in the hearts of members of that congregation was amply demonstrated by the welcome home that was extended Tuesday night to those who have returned.

The welcome home banquet and program was under the leadership of Trinity's pastor, the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, with arrangements by the servicemen's committee of the parish, a special committee from the Men's Club and the ladies' Aid Society, cooperating to make it a notable success.

Trinity Lutheran made an outstanding contribution to the war effort, its roll of honor carrying 144 names. Of this number 103 have returned home. Four of the members—John Paul Brandt, William Geisel, Bruno Koditek and John C. Sharp—were killed in action, two during the invasion of Europe, one in Italy and one in the Philippines.

Most of the returned veterans were among the same 200 men that filled the large dining hall of the church Tuesday night. They were served with nothing less than a wonderful turkey dinner, listened to brief speeches of welcome and an address by Assemblyman John F. Wadlin, sang songs and were sung to, witnessed feats of magic by Fred L. Van Deusen and at the conclusion were presented with gifts as souvenirs of the occasion.

Memorial Service
At the opening, following singing of a verse of My Country, 'Tis of Thee, the large body of men stood at attention while the Rev. Mr. Gollnick conducted a brief memorial service for those who had given their lives for their country.

Speakers of the evening, as well as others, joined in praises for the Ladies' Aid members who, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edward Snyder, prepared and served the turkey dinner with the following: The turkey and all the fixings which accompanied it were super de luxe and the dinner was served with a speed and dexterity that was nothing short of professional.

Pastor's Welcome
Before introducing the speakers of the evening Pastor Gollnick assured the guests of honor of the great pleasure and happiness all felt at having them back home once more. "We have missed our boys," he said. Thanks were extended to the members of the congregation who had worked so hard to make the affair a success.

Fred W. Ahlers, president of the church council, speaking on behalf of the church, spoke of the pleasure it gave all to honor the servicemen of the parish, who, through the grace of God have been permitted to return to homes and loved ones. However, he said, "I hope an occasion such as this will never arise again." He concluded, "You have done a swell job, have been true to your country and have served it well. Now, be true to your church and to your God."

District Attorney Speaks
Saying that members of the church had been proud and happy to have one of their members, a returned serviceman, had been appointed to a prominent office in the county, the Rev. Mr. Gollnick introduced District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn.

District Attorney Bruhn, speaking for the servicemen, conveyed their thanks, not only for the tribute that was being paid that evening, but also for the letters and gifts that had been sent to them while they were in service. Especially, he extended thanks for the prayers in their behalf that had been offered at the altar. He spoke of the duty all owed to their country and added, "part of that is the church." His comment on the dinner that had been served was, "It was one of the finest I have attended."

Oscar Lawatsch, another returned serviceman, and president of the congregation, voiced appreciation of the work of those who had made the evening such a success. He said, "It is nice to sit down on chairs to such a dinner, and not have to be thinking about K.P. afterward."

Address of Assemblyman Wadlin
Assemblyman John F. Wadlin, guest speaker of the evening said, "The church, and you, are to be congratulated on the splendid turnout tonight. I wish I could give you the message you are entitled to."

"It is my work to represent the people and to try to do for them what they want to have done," he said. "I know the people of the church and of the community would want me to be present tonight and to tell you how glad and happy we are to welcome you servicemen and women home."

Assemblyman Wadlin continued: "We are all deeply grateful for what you have done, the way you did it and your willingness to sacrifice for your country and your church."

"We are glad to have you back, not only for your own sakes, but also for our sake. We need you for your courage, for your capacity for doing things, for your knowledge of war and what it entails. You have learned things that are invaluable to us."

Speaking of the United Nations organization, Assemblyman Wadlin said, "Their current problems are being played up as unsolvable and we almost despair. We should be rejoicing because we have a forum organized to deal with problems and headaches. It is their business to

Attended Church Party

Trinity Lutheran Church welcomed home its servicemen last night with a banquet and evening of entertainment. Left to right, Louis G. Bruhn, district attorney; Fred L. Van Deusen, the Rev. Frank L. deal with knotty problems and when they dispose of one they will get others to work on. Problems seemingly solved will return for further consideration.

In conclusion the Assemblyman said to the servicemen: "You people had faith enough in yourselves to win a war. We, at home, had faith you would do it. Now all of us must have faith that an organization of the United Nations can so govern itself that all the people of the world and all nations, will live better; spending their substance for building up, not destroying, to the end that we may have peace on earth and universal brotherly love."

Social Time
Following Assemblyman Wadlin's address, Fred L. Van Deusen entertained with feats of magic. He introduced a new trick, recently received from England. He showed a pane of glass in a frame and after piercing it with needles and the like, with the "greatest of ease," proceeded to fold it together like a piece of rubber. Of course, at the finish, the pane of glass was shown perfectly flat and intact.

During the evening Anthony J. Messina, choir leader, with Dan Bittner at the piano, led in chorus singing. The audience also enjoyed the singing of a number of selections given by a group of young men of the church.

The program closed with a presentation of fountain pens to the returned servicemen, while others were reserved for those who are still in service. Presentations were made by Ralph Finnigan and Howard Kelder, chairman and co-chairman of the parish servicemen's committee.

The memorable evening closed with singing "God be with you till we meet again," and the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Gollnick.

Fire Losses Increase
Albany, N. Y., April 30 (AP)—Fire loss in New York state was 11 per cent higher during the five-year period ending in 1944 than during the previous five years. A survey of "fire engineering" magazine shows losses totaling $123,042,094 during the five years ending 1944 against $111,450,024 from 1935 to 1939 inclusive. The magazine warned that loss of property and life from fire would mount for the next 10 years.

13 Legionnaires Are Initiated Into 40 and 8 Society

At the promenade of Voiture Locale, 381, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, Sunday afternoon, 13 American Legionnaires were initiated into the order which is a branch of the Legion.

Legionnaires who took their obligation at the Memorial Building of Kingston Post, 150, were County Judge John M. Cashin, Judge Bernard A. Culliton, Kingston Post Commander Samuel H. Peyer, Aaron R. Hahne, George S. Heineman, Edward Joyce, Gordon F. Levine, Waldron D. Moore, Ernest R. Jansen, Sydney Flaiser, Jesse N. Van Gaasbeek, Dr. Sidney Wolf and Harry Beck.

After the ceremonies at the Legion building the 40 & 8 dined at the Hotel Stuyvesant. Grand Commis Voyageur Charles H. Hummer, Jr., chairman of the 40 & 8 locomotive fund asked each voyageur to send a contribution to help purchase a locomotive to be used on various occasions when the order takes part in public events.

Chef de Gare John N. Cordis requested the men to take part in the Memorial Day parade, each marching with his respective Legion post, and during his talk laid emphasis on the duty of 40 & 8ers to procure Legion members from among the veterans of World War 2.

Among guests at the Sunday event were Grand Commis Voyageur Harry M. Biffar from Queens Voiture, 56, Voyageur Hamlin, superintendent of Napeanoch Institution and Cpl. James McTigue of Cairo who has re-enlisted in the army.

Corporal McTigue enlisted two years before the United States entered the war and was captured with General Wainwright on Corregidor. He was one of 3,500 prisoners out of 21,000 to survive the brutality of the Japanese.

As a prisoner of war Corporal McTigue labored in Jap copper mines. In three and a half years his weight dropped from 175 to 94 pounds. His diet was flour and water, with a little rice.

Orders were given in Japanese. When workers couldn't understand the Japs pricked them with bayonets. McTigue has 20 scars. He lost all his teeth when a guard cracked him in the mouth with a rifle butt.

Describing terrible conditions on Jap prison ships, Cpl. McTigue said that the weakest captives were thrown overboard.

With six years of service to his credit, the corporal intends to make the army his career. He praised the treatment he has received and thinks there are lots of good opportunities in the army.

Teachers May Advance Their Salaries by Training Credits

Among numerous rules and regulations adopted by the Kingston Board of Education, in connection with the new salary schedule approved last week, there is particular interest in the provision by which teachers may advance their salaries through increased training. A system of five-year "levels" has been adopted and a teacher gaining the required number of training credits during a five-year period is in a position to be advanced to the next higher level, which carries with it an advance in salary.

The new rules and regulations, covering teachers and heads of departments, include the following: The superintendent of schools will evaluate the experience and training of new teachers and determine their salary level.

Teachers may advance their salaries by increasing their training. Thus advancement from level A to B will require a Bachelor's degree or its equivalent (32 credit hours); from B to C a Master's degree or equivalent (32 credit hours).

Additional training courses should be approved in advance by the superintendent of schools, not later than June 1.

Five-Year System

A system of five-year service levels has been adopted to encourage teachers to remain in Kingston and insure improvement in service. There are three levels which normally should be reached when a teacher has taught, 13, 18 and 23 years respectively. The teacher in order to progress to any one of the salary levels must remain on the previous level for five years, must have met the additional training requirements and be recommended by the superintendent of schools. Six credit hours or its equivalent during the preceding five-year period, in a summer school or other approved course of study are necessary for advancement.

Applicants for any position must meet the requirements of the State Education Department for certification. Trade school certificate and school nurse-teacher certificates shall be considered equal to the five-year level.

Transfer of teachers shall remain a prerogative of the Board of Education, based upon recommendation of the superintendent. The application of "tenure" shall be strictly in accordance with the State Education Law.

Insofar as possible husband and wife shall not hold regular positions. In buildings where one principal has charge of two schools the head teacher shall be paid $200 in addition to the regular schedule.

The custodian of all high school extra-curricular funds, including athletic funds, shall receive $300, over and above the regular teacher's salary.

Transportation allowance for all special teachers, nurses, supervisors, attendance officers, agriculture teacher, etc., is included in the base salary.

May Go Over Schedule

It is declared that there is nothing in this schedule to prevent the Board of Education from granting any teacher or employee an increment larger than specified in the schedule, or from paying a salary above the maximum established in the schedule, which becomes effective July 1, 1946.

Principals in the elementary schools, the Myron J. Michael School, the principal and vice-principal of the Kingston High School, must meet the State requirements for "certification of principals."

Heads of departments in the Kingston High School shall be paid the sum of $200 in addition to the regular schedule. The head of a department shall be considered as head of that particular subject in Grades 9 to 12 inclusive. This includes the ninth year in the Myron J. Michael School.

Substitutes Pay

Substitutes shall be paid at the rate of $6 per day. Teachers in the Summer School shall be paid at the rate of $7 per day. Teachers in the Evening School shall be paid at the rate of $2 per hour.

The Guidance Director shall be in charge of the guidance program in all of the schools. The Agriculture teacher shall serve on a 12-month basis.

The new base salary shall be the sum of the present base salary plus the present cost of living adjustment.

A teacher whose present base salary plus cost of living adjustment is less than the minimum on the schedule shall be raised to the new minimum. To this minimum there shall be added an increment of $250 for 1946-47. There shall be no cost of living adjustment for 1946-47.

In introducing the new schedule every teacher's increase shall be not less than $250, except where such increase would result in a salary in excess of the regular maximum.

Evaluating Credit Hours

The only basis on which any professional activity shall be approved for credit is that it contributes directly to an improvement in the effectiveness of a teacher's work.

As to types of professional activities which will be considered for credit.

In educational research the project shall be within the field of work in which the teacher is teaching and shall cover an area which can be clearly defined as to relationship to that work. The results shall show a definite contribution to improved teaching service. (Not more than six credit hours will be allowed in any one calendar year.)

Objective. The project shall be of such a nature and quality that it will make a definite contribution to improved teaching service.

Occupational Experience. Shall be directly related to the teacher's field of work; shall result in an extension and improvement in the teacher's skill and knowledge in the field of work in which he is teaching.

Travel. The only kind of travel that will be considered for credit is where such travel is undertaken for a definite purpose of research. It must result in a definite contribution to improved teaching service.

In report of the Board of Education meeting Friday night, through an error in the first paragraph of the account mention was made of the purchase of Lawton Park for school purposes. Loughran Park was correctly used in the latter part of the story, which gave details of the action taken to secure Loughran Park for school purposes.

Mrs. Florence S. Solomon, whose resignation as teacher in the first grade of School No. 2 was accepted, has joined her husband, David Solomon, at Fleischmanns. Mr. Solomon, who recently received his honorable discharge from the Army, has taken a position at Fleischmanns.

Redeployment

Annual School Meeting

The annual school meeting of Common School District 7, Town of Esopus, will be held on May 7, at 7:30 p. m. Daylight Saving Time, at the Rock Schoolhouse, Rifton.

Develops Bad Rap

Paterson, N. J., (AP)—A hosiery dealer was reported to the O.P.A. district office by three women for overcharges on rayon stockings. The O. P. A. investigated, refunded 50 cents each to the trio, then collected $1,116 in triple damage settlements for overcharges on 744 other sales of stockings turned up in the investigation.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Common Falling

New York, May 1 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, an old hand at traveling, was four minutes late arriving at a meeting of the United Nations' Commission on Human Rights, of which she is chairman. "I got mixed up on the subway again," she explained.

Long Term Investment

Philadelphia, May 1 (AP)—Clarence S. Keator donated 73 cents to his church's building fund when he was six years old. Keator, now 46, got the money back today on order of orphan's court.

An endowment fund of $47,296 raised by the North Broad Street Presbyterian Church in 1906 stipulated the money was to be returned to original subscribers when the church was dissolved.

Heel Steals Wheel

Chicago, May 1 (AP)—Irving Feinberg was driving his automobile in Ogden avenue last night when he was jolted violently and the front end of the car sagged abruptly to the left. Spying his front wheel rolling down the street, he maneuvered his three-wheeled auto to the curb, leaped out and prepared to retrieve it.

But another motorist sped past Feinberg and caught up with the runaway wheel. He picked it up, threw it in his car and drove away.

Watch Dog Watches Master

Elgin, Ill., May 1 (AP)—Scott Wiener says he has changed his opinion about his dog, which he had claimed the best watch dog in Elgin township.

While Wiener's dog was watching his master pick asparagus, a sneak thief looted Wiener's home of a watch and a purse containing $10.

Double Duty

Mexico, Mo., May 1 (AP)—Albert Tyree converted his milk truck into a volunteer fire department to put out a fire in an automobile along the side of a road. The grateful car owner paid for the 40 gallons of milk it took to do the job.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Palladino of Highland have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Marie Palladino, to Joseph Errico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Errico of New Rochelle. The ceremony was performed at double ring rites in St. Augustine's Church, Highland, Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Joseph Crew.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white brocade with lace and tulle veil edged with lace and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white orchids and sweet peas. Her sister, Mrs. Josephine Rhodes was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Mildred Bezzaro, Florence Pascale, Reta Palladino, Pauline Errico and Eleanor Palladino. Marie Constantino was flower girl. They wore gowns of pastel shades with matching headpieces and carried shower bouquets of sweet peas.

Anthony Errico was his brother's best man. Ushers were Dominick Constantino, Daniel and Frank Errico, Dominic and William Palladino, William Piner, a nephew of the bridegroom, acted as the flower girl's escort.

The bride is a graduate of Highland High School and the Practical School of Nursing in New York. She is employed at the White Swan Uniform Co. A veteran of three years with the army. Mr. Errico is employed at King Kullen Market, Mt. Vernon. He is a graduate of New Rochelle High School and a member of the Holy Name Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Errico will make their home in New Rochelle upon their return from Bangor, Me.

Vivian Cook Is Bride Of Paul Joseph Brady

Miss Vivian Virginia Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur D. Cook, 166 Wrentham street, was united in marriage to Paul Joseph Brady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Brady, 127 West 90th street, New York city, Saturday at 3 p. m. The wedding took place at St. Mary's Church with the Rev. John J. Drew officiating.

Theodore Riccobono as organist played the traditional wedding marches. Miss Mary Qualtere sang, "Panis Angelicus." The church was decorated with palms, cala lilies and stocks.

Mr. Cook gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a street length dress of beige champagne crepe with brown accessories and a corsage of orchids. Mrs. John S. McLees, sister of the bridegroom, of Washington, D. C., was matron of honor. She wore a dusty rose two-piece suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Frank Flanagan of New York city acted as best man.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue floral print dress with navy accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a black suit with black accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the immediate families at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The bride's table was decorated with a large floral centerpiece and white candles and a three tiered wedding cake. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Brady left for a wedding trip to Miami Beach, Fla. For traveling she chose an olive green gabardine suit with brown accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon their return they will make their home in New York city.

Mr. Brady was graduated from Kemptville High School, Norfolk, Va., and attended International Business Machine School. She was employed as key punch operator in Poughkeepsie. Mr. Brady is employed at Hunter College. He was discharged from the navy December 20, after four years service, the last nine months of which were spent in the South Pacific area.

Registrations Open For Triangle Acres Y.W. Summer Camp

Mrs. F. P. Merritt, chairman of the camp committee of the Y. W. C. A. announced today that registrations are being taken for the 1946 season of Camp Triangle Acres. Miss Matilda Martin of the Y. W. C. A. is registrar. The camp is open for girls from 8 to 16 years. All applications will be considered in the order in which they are received at the Y. W. C. A. office.

This year for the first time, the camp will run for six weeks for the younger girls of Kingston and vicinity. In 1945 the camping season for younger girls was increased from three to four weeks and now just three years later, it is being increased again by two weeks.

Another new departure planned for this year is the division of the camping season in two three week periods. The first runs from June 30 to July 20 and the second from July 21 to August 10.

Registrations are now being accepted for either three week period, or for shorter time if that is desired. In the event that registrations are not completed by June 1, the committee will consider applications for the total six week period. At present however, the maximum time allowed is three weeks in order to accommodate all the girls who might like to attend camp.

Attractive folders about the camp have been prepared by the camp committee and may be secured from the registrar at the "Y". The camp committee includes Mrs. Merritt, chairman; Mrs. John Herlihy, Mrs. Kenneth Kukuk, Mrs. Elma Smith and Mrs. Clifford Rose, ex-officio.

Sisterhood Delegates Attend State Convention in New York

Mrs. Harry Kaplan, president of the Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel and Mrs. Richard Kalish, vice president, were official delegates at the state convention of temple sisterhoods held in Temple Emanuel, Fifth avenue, New York city, Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. Harry Jacobs and Mrs. Sam Mann also attended the luncheon meeting. Eddie Dowling, star of the Glass Menagerie, gave an inspiring talk at the luncheon stressing brotherhood and good will among all peoples. Congressman Powell, husband of the noted pianist, Hazel Scott, was also one of the outstanding speakers of the assembly.

Mrs. Clifford Davis Honored At Bridal Shower Monday

Dinner-Dance Will Officially Open Season At Twaalfskill Golf Club Saturday Night

Twaalfskill Golf Club officially launches the 1946 social season, with the opening dinner-dance Saturday at the club house, Robert Herzog, chairman of the House Committee announced today.

Club members have been giving the golf course a terrific play for the past several days, but Saturday's play will mark the official opening of the season. Walter Thiel, club pro, announced.

Miss Adelaide Rice, who was associated with Judge's Restaurant for several years, will be formally introduced to Twaalfskill members as the official hostess for the club. Miss Rice will be in charge of the Twaalfskill dining room on a full-time basis. The service will be available to club members and their guests daily.

Dress for Saturday night's function will be optional. Chairman Herzog announced. Music for dancing will be furnished by Paul Zucca's orchestra.

The dinner-dance will serve as the springboard for what Twaalfskill officials confidently predict will be the greatest season in the history of the club.

Interest to date has been the greatest since the club was organized, according to Walter Thiel. The Twaalfskill pro said that the midtown course is in excellent playing condition and ready for the heavy influx of members and guests.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapter Celebrates Founder's Day, Re-Elects All Officers

The 15th anniversary of Beta Sigma Phi, international cultural sorority, was celebrated by the local chapter, 2392, at a dinner Tuesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel at which time appropriate ceremonies marked Founder's Day of the organization. This was the first such anniversary program in which the local affiliate has participated.

During the evening the present officers were re-elected for another year. They are Mrs. John Connors, president; Mrs. Paul Hinkley, vice president; Miss Gladys Wiedemann, recording secretary, and Mrs. Ralph Harper, treasurer.

The program opened with the singing of the National Anthem. This was followed by the serving of a turkey dinner. Mrs. Connors welcomed the guests. Later Mrs. Paul Hinkley read a message to the assemblage which had been received from Walter W. Ross, founder of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Ralph Harper, local singer, was the featured guest on the program and she offered two selections. The songs were "Smile of Spring" by Fletcher and "Down in the Forest" by Langdon. In a setting of candlelight and flowers, the Ritual of Jewels was given by Miss Florence Carlson to the pledges.

Those who attended the dinner last evening from the local sorority were Mrs. Ralph Harper, Mrs. Paul Hinkley, Mrs. John Connors, Mrs. Irwin J. Thomas, and the Misses Audrey Wiedemann, Gladys Wiedemann, and Florence Carlson; Miss Marion Reynolds of Daytona Beach, Fla., a former member of the local unit, attended the celebration as a guest.

Kingston High School Prepares May Day Festival With Dances, Drills, Tumbling

With the resumption of school following Easter vacation, final rehearsals and plans for Kingston High School's May Day are being completed. The annual festival to which the public is invited will be held Friday morning, May 10, at 10 o'clock, on the grounds behind the high school building.

The queen and her court which have been announced include Miss Mary Schoonmaker, Queen of May; Miss Hilda Tiedemann, maid of honor to the queen; and the Misses Marilyn Cunniff, Patricia Manfro, Patricia Davenport, Peggy Camp, Theresa Carr and Arline Van Buren, attendants. Joseph Mills, senior class president, will act as prime minister. Miss Madeleine Tarrant is supervising the routine presentation of the queen and her court.

The winding of the May Pole, traditional dance for May Day, will be given by a group of high school girls in colorful costumes. This year it has been incorporated in a waltz routine to the tune of the "Blue Danube Waltz." Mrs. James McMann, girl's physical director at high school and general chairman of May Day, will have charge of this part of the program. She will also direct the Leaders' Club in a special marching drill. The Leaders' will wear their white uniforms. Girls from the Myron J. Michael School in maroon uniforms will do a rhythmic exercise drill as directed by Miss Jane Ward.

Also on the schedule of events will be gymnasium apparatus drill by the K.H.S. Boys' Gym Club; and a tumbling act by M.J.M. boys. Outstanding features each year, these groups are being coached by G. Warren Kias and Kenneth Babcock, respectively.

Prospects Are Bright for Outdoor Boxing Shows at Stadium; Kingston and Middletown to Open DUSO Season on Friday

Brown Is Slated For Mound Duties In Local Opener

Chris Lay Is Expected to Do Catching for Maroon; Wittman Is Nominee for Middies

Idle since their game at Arlington, April 24, Coach Pete Hatch and his Kingston High School baseball team will swing back into action Friday afternoon at municipal stadium when Middletown High School appears here for the opening of the local diamond season and also the inaugural of the DUSO Baseball League. Kingston was rained out of its scheduled tilt with the N.Y.M.A. Cadets at Cornwall last Saturday.

After being forced indoors Monday afternoon due to bad weather, Maroon and White team got back into action at the stadium field yesterday and plan for another drill today.

Brown Will Hurl
"Tex" Brown, who tossed that no-hitter against Arlington in the first game of the season, had been nominated by Hatch to twirl the DUSO opener Friday. "Red" Gorsline had been tagged to pitch last Saturday against Cornwall. He'll be ready to go if Brown meets with any trouble.

Bobby Wittman or Clyde Thornton is expected to do the hurrying for Middletown Friday afternoon. Thornton flung a six-hitter against Warwick recently when the Middies triumphed by 6 to 2.

Saturday's postponement also proved to be another thorn in Coach Hatch's side as he was unable to test his rookie catcher, Tom Larson. Although he hasn't made any definite selections, the Maroon mentor is expected to use Chris Lay caught Brown in the opener and is figured to get the call again. "I don't know how Tom will stand up under pressure," Hatch told a reporter, "or otherwise there would be no question of his starting the game."

Outside of the catching post, the rest of the Maroon nine in Friday's contest will be the same as that which started the Arlington game. The infield will see Bill Cassidy on first, Bill Glaser second, "Red" Gorsline at shortstop and Mike Rienzo holding down the hot corner post, Bobby Roe, Dick Dulin and Ken Lowe will patrol the outfield.

Kingston is expected to equal in the hitting department. Kingston has 11 hits gathered by the Maroon in the Arlington game. George Glaser, who hit a home run and two doubles seems to be showing power at the plate. Ken Lowe, Bobby Roe, Gorsline, Mike Rienzo and "Tex" Brown.

If you've been trying one blade after another, searching for the better there's got a pack of Pals today. See if you don't agree that this is it!

Ordinary safety razor blades are ground like a pocket knife. Pal Blades are different—they're Leather Stripped and Hollow Ground just like a barber's razor.

Real: Pal Blades are flexible in your hand—follow facial contours effortlessly. Your shave is cool, quick, no "beading" down. And delicate edges last longer. No. That's why millions call it the Pal.

SCOREBOARD

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bobby Feller's brilliant no-hit, no-run job against the New York Yankees should still once and for all the springtime rumors that Rapid Robert had lost his fast one.

"My fast ball was my best pitch all the way," Feller said in the clubhouse after the ball game, "but I also used a lot of curves and sliders. I believe I had better stuff than when I pitched my other no-hitter against the White Sox in the 1940 opener."

Feller was amused and slightly peeved about reports he was "slipping." Before the game, Manager Lou Boudreau shrugged off questions about Feller with a quiet, "wait until after the game and then talk to me." After the game, nobody asked any questions.

Has 39 Strikeouts

Feller now has 39 strikeouts victims in four games, counting the 11 he whiffed in yesterday's 1-0 Cleveland victory over New York. He walked five Yanks in chucking his second no-hitter, becoming one of a select group of 11 who have done the trick in the history of the majors. Two hurlers, Lawrence Corcoran of the Chicago Cubs and Cy Young of Cleveland and Boston (both leagues) have three to their credit but even that mark is not out of Feller's reach.

It was the second near perfect game in a week as Ed Head of Brooklyn had brotled Boston without a safety last Tuesday. Never in the history of the Yankee Stadium had the home club been held hitless and a Yankee team hadn't gone without a safe blow in a game since 1919 when Ray Caldwell, another Cleveland pitcher, did the trick.

37,144 See Game

Floyd Bevens matched Feller's goose egg for goose egg up to the ninth when Frankie Hayes, Bobby's batterymate, planted a home run in the left field stands. The Tribe ace had a close call in the ninth when an error, sacrifice and an infield out moved George Stinewiss around to third with two out. Charley Keller rolled out to Second Baseman Ray Mack to lift the suspense and loosen a throaty roar from the banner weekday crowd of 37,144 fans.

Only two others reached second base and both died there as Feller was stymied under pressure. The only fielding play of note was a sparkler by Boudreau who raced across second base from his shortstop post to grab a roller off Stinewiss' bat and throw him out by a step in the first inning.

Dobson Halts Bengals

Feller's sterling job overshadowed a fine effort by Joe Dobson of the Boston Red Sox who handed Detroit's Hal Newhouse his first setback, 4-0, lengthening his club's American League lead to two full games. Dobson, an ex-G.I., allowed only three hits in racking up his third straight victory.

Ray Scarborough turned in a winning performance for Washington, outpointing Ed Lopat of Chicago, 3-2, with the help of Buddy Egan's tie-breaking double scoring Al Evans in the seventh.

The Philadelphia Athletics outscrambled the St. Louis Browns, 12-8, in a wild affair in which eight pitchers saw action. Starter Russ Christopher was the victor and Tex Shirley, who opened for the Browns, was the loser.

The Chicago Cubs knocked the Brooklyn Dodgers out of the National League lead with an 11th inning 2-1 verdict. Reliever Hugh Casey passed Dominic Dilesandro with the sack loaded to help Fireman Emil Kish grab his third straight win.

Cardinals in First
Although rain and wet grounds forced postponement of their game with New York, the idle St. Louis Cardinals took over first place by a half game. A Cincinnati-Boston series opener also was washed out.

Pittsburgh broke out with three runs in the eighth inning to snap a 1-1 tie and assure the Pirates of a 4-1 nod over the Phillies. Pitcher Tommy Hughes' wild peg let in two tallies and Bob Elliott's double drove in the third to save a victory for Reltter Jack Hallett and snap a three-game B-K losing streak.

Houston, Texas—Kid Filpino, 142½, Nogales, outpointed Clarence King, 139½, Miami, Fla. 10.

New York—Lenny "Boom Boom" Mancini, 147½, Youngstown, outpointed Vic Costa, 146½, New York, 8.

Youngstown, Ohio—Tommy Bell, 148½, Youngstown, outpointed Bobby Simmons, 144½, Indianapolis, 10.

New York—Steve Belloise, 161, New York, knocked out Johnny Jones, 155, Pittsburgh, 4.

Youngstown, Ohio—Tommy Bell, 148½, Youngstown, outpointed Bobby Simmons, 144½, Indianapolis, 10.

Hurls No-Hitter

BOB FELLER

Bob Feller, Cleveland Indian fireballer, hung up his second no-hitter Tuesday when he hand-cuffed the New York Yankees at the stadium before 38,112 fans. The Indians, behind Rapid Robert, defeated the Yanks by the score of 1 to 0 when Frankie Hayes connected for a homer in the ninth inning. Feller's first no-hitter came against the Chicago White Sox on opening day in 1940. Tuesday Feller struckout 11 Yankee batsmen and issued five walks.

Riphey Is Winner Of Derby Trial Run at Louisville

Virginia-Born Horse Takes Decision Over Sloppy Track; Spy Song Finishes Second

Louisville, Ky., May 1 (AP)—William Hells must be convinced that horse-buying is a funny business, because he can now boast of paying $66,000 for one gee-gee which turned out to be the most expensive "pet" in history—and only $12,000 to get the latest glamour boy in Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

This is not saying that Riphey is wearing that necktie of roses already, because the Derby dandies still have to run a mile and a quarter around the race track, and Lord Boswell and Knockdown still are the young men most likely to succeed in a field that appears virtually certain to number 17 horses for this 12nd get-together.

Chances Are Good

But off his smashing score in the Derby trial mile yesterday, the Virginia-born swiftie might very well be the one they'll be hanging that lavalliere of buds on late Saturday afternoon.

Of course, in this widest open Derby in years any horse might hit the jackpot. Even Charlie Fisher's Spy Song, although the way he seemed to turn in his ticket when Riphey issued a challenge in the stretch yesterday left considerably more than a few doubters among the 20,000 or so at the Downs.

The mud-running Riphey gave definite proof that he's just about as sharp as you'll find around Churchill Downs right now, especially if it comes up slop, as it did yesterday.

All of which just goes to show you never can tell, when you're buying a horse, whether you'll get Man O'War or something suited for hauling a milk-wagon. Back a few years ago, Hells went for that fancy $66,000 to pick up Pericles—and Pericles turned out to be more interested in nibbling sugar from his owner's hand than in trying to pay off the oat-bill.

Two years ago, the Golden Creek from New Orleans bid in a handsome sum of money for $12,000 at the Kenelmale sale. The one was Riphey, and for a while—he never got to the post last year—he looked as though he might be interested in being a non-runner.

He went to the races in Florida last winter, won first out by six lengths in a buck-jump, finished second in his next start a week ago, and rang the cash register for $9,775 yesterday.

Favorites on Hand

Although Mrs. Graham's big horses—Lord B and Knockdown—and last Saturday's Chesapeake winner, Hampden, were sitting around taking things easy while all this was going on, virtually all the rest of the favorites for Saturday's scramble were on hand.

Assault, the Texas stepper was there, and all he could get was fourth money, and Marine Victory, the front-running Marylander, ambled home sixth, just a length in front of Warren Wright's pint-sized In Earnest, who didn't appear to like the going, but is still the most-favored dark horse in the field.

In ninth place was the Canadian cyclone, Wee Admiral, who wasn't cycling a bit.

The race eliminated only one horse from the Derby field. This was Double Sam, pride and joy of J. Graham Brown, Louisville hotel owner. He finished eighth, then joined Mrs. Vera S. Bragg's Mist O'Gold, who has a fever, on the sidelines for Saturday.

Final City League Meeting Is Slated For This Evening

Team Managers Will Meet at Recreation Offices at 7:30 P. M.; May Start Next Week

The final organizational meeting of the City Baseball League will be held tonight at the recreation offices, 97 Broadway, at 7:30 o'clock sharp. All team managers who have franchises in the loop are urgently requested to attend the important session.

At the last meeting of the league managers nine clubs were represented and presented entry fees to the league secretary, Perry Service Station, Grunwalds, Texas Lunch Cardinals, Jay-Rich, Ertels, Morgans, New York Central, Jones Dairy and the Gov. Clinton Market. All managers or official representatives of these clubs are expected to attend this evening.

This evening's parley is expected to end up the pre-season plans for the league, according to spokesmen of the loop. Providing all business necessary for the season is transacted at tonight's session it is anticipated that the first postwar edition of the City League will open sometime next week.

Warren Smith, recently elected president, will preside at the meeting.

Officials and Guests at Bowling Banquet

Bowlers of the Central Recreation and Major Leagues held their annual post-season banquet at the Evergreens Tuesday evening at which time prizes for the year were presented by George Robinson, secretary of both circuits. Speakers Plead for Quick End Of Handicap at Bowling Dinner

Central Rec and Major Loop Keglers Receive Awards on Tuesday Night at Evergreens

Another successful bowling season was brought to a close Tuesday evening when the combined Central Rec and Major Leagues held their annual post-season turkey banquet at the Evergreens on Albany avenue extension.

George Robinson, secretary of both loops, awarded prizes to the various bowlers.

Throughout the evening short addresses were made by Mayor William Edelmuth, Jack Martin, president of the Central Rec League; Addison Jones, president of the Kingston Bowling Association; Peter Keresman, honorary president of the K.B.A.; Ben Krom, Charlie Tiano, Freeman staff reporter; Irwin J. Thomas, Freeman sports editor; Don Ecker, Kingston Daily Leader and Secretary Robinson.

Mr. Keresman, who acted as toastmaster for the occasion, went on record Tuesday evening in support of the present drive to abolish future handicaps in the Kingston Major League. "Teams in that loop have graduated far enough now to do away with the handicap," he said, and he urged all concerned to do their best in bringing about the end of it.

The following men are urged to attend Thursday's drill: Howie Brooks, who hurled the win against Walkill Sunday; Bud Swarthout, Bud Zoller, Jack Struble, Art Hasbrock, Lou Sapp, George Schirich, Bill Tierney, Jesse Shultis, Ken Horner, Fred Storms, George Brinkman and Tom Heneberry.

Kite Meet Will Be Held Saturday

First Event Is Slated for 2 P. M.

The Kite Flying Meet, scheduled for municipal stadium last Saturday afternoon, will be held at the uptown ball park this Saturday.

Awards Are Made

Secretary George Robinson made the presentations of checks to league winners in both loops.

Ben Leonard May Enter Local Ring Picture Soon

Ben Becker, A.A.U. Boss, Expresses Desire to Help Promote Boxing in This City

Benny Leonard, former lightweight champion of the world, may enter the local boxing picture soon.

He and Ben M. Becker of Albany, who has been identified with amateur boxing for more than 15 years, have almost completed plans to open a gymnasium in the capital city as a training center.

Announcement Later
"We are not ready for a formal announcement yet," Becker told a Freeman reporter in a recent chat while they discussed the revival of boxing in Kingston.

Becker, who served as a lieutenant commander in the navy for four years, said he and Leonard hope to develop a lot of amateurs with intentions of sending them into the professional ranks when they have learned enough about

McPhail Denies He Gave Rizzuto Hike in Contract

Charge Made Saying Larry Offered Player More Money to Match Mexican Bid

New York, May 1 (AP)—The Mexican madman had oozed into the camp of the New York Yankees today with President Larry MacPhail denying he had given Shortstop Phil Rizzuto a new contract to match an offer from Jorge Pasquel and also charging that a New York newspaperman had been approaching Yankee players for the Mexican League.

Commenting on a story in the New York Post that Rizzuto had obtained a better contract from the Yanks on the strength of a fancy offer from the Mexican League president, MacPhail said: "If and when the matter is brought up in the common council, I shall vote with the majority on it," he told a reporter today. Alderman Cornwell can be counted among those who helped promote boxing in the past, he having served on the American Legion committee and the Mayor's Industrial Committee when they ran the sport.

Representing B'nai B'rith last night were Harry Kaplan, Joseph Epstein and Samuel J. Riber, who outlined the lodge's plans for presenting big outdoor shows, featuring the best amateur talent in the country, including national champions at the uptown stadium this summer.

Morgans to Drill Thursday Evening At Loughran Park

Manager Bill Ball has called for a special practice session for his Morgan Restaurant team at Loughran Park Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. This will be the final workout for the club before the opening of the City League.

The following men are urged to attend Thursday's drill: Howie Brooks, who hurled the win against Walkill Sunday; Bud Swarthout, Bud Zoller, Jack Struble, Art Hasbrock, Lou Sapp, George Schirich, Bill Tierney, Jesse Shultis, Ken Horner, Fred Storms, George Brinkman and Tom Heneberry.

Request for Park At Next Common Council Meeting

Another Sellout Expected for Thursday's Stellar Card at Auditorium; Starts at 9 P. M.

Kingston is in store for one of the heaviest sports seasons in the city's history, with outdoor boxing practically assured at the municipal stadium.

B'nai B'rith Lodge, which has revived the sport after a seven year lapse, and has an indoor card scheduled for Thursday at the municipal auditorium, will formally apply for use of the uptown ballpark at the next meeting of the common council.

Last night at a closed meeting with the city clerk's office, B'nai B'rith members met with the building and supplies committee of the common council in reference to negotiations for the stadium.

Esther Roth Engaged To Reuben Marcus

Mrs. Ida Roth of Harrisburg, Pa., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Esther Roth, to Reuben Marcus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Marcus of 57 Meadow street. The wedding date has not been set.

Miss Roth is now making her home with Mr. Harry Gallop on the Strand. Mr. Marcus recently received his discharge from the army.

Marion Sahler Speaks
To Hospital Auxiliary
Mrs. Marion E. Sahler of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association office, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of Kingston Hospital Auxiliary at the Nurses' Home, Tuesday afternoon. Her topic was "What Nutrition Means to You."

In introducing her subject she remarked that there was a wide difference between passable health and buoyant health and to some extent the person may have a choice by selecting the proper food for nutrition. She spoke of experiments made in eating the food of an average menu and one carefully balanced for vital food factors and vitamin supplies. Mrs. Sahler warned the group not to depend on vitamin pills for health but rather to plan meals including the necessary vitamins. In this manner she suggested that the chance of developing tuberculosis, other diseases and poor health would wane.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. R. Frederic Chidsey, president, plans for improvement to be made at the hospital this summer were discussed. Resolutions were adopted on the deaths of three members: Mrs. William S. Campbell, Mrs. Hermon A. Kelley, and Mrs. Ralph J. Gregory. Mrs. John Schomer was welcomed as a new member.

Arrangements were made to hold a dessert bridge at the May meeting, May 28, at 1:30 p. m. for members only. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Parker K. Brimmer, Mrs. Willis Locke, Mrs. Henry C. Page, Mrs. George Kermochan, and Mrs. C. Effingham Burnett.

Baptist Ladies' Aid
The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of First Baptist Church was held in the church parlors Tuesday evening. The society heard annual reports which marked a successful year.

Officers elected for next year are Mrs. George B. Matthews, president; Mrs. Raymond H. Woodward, vice president; Mrs. Emory Crow, secretary and Mrs. Erwin E. Crow, treasurer.

Trinity Lutheran Has Welcome Home For Returned Vets

Lutheran Parish Has 144 Names on Honor Roll; 103 Back as Civilians

That there is no question as to the warm place the boys of Trinity Lutheran Church, who have been in service, hold in the hearts of members of that congregation was amply demonstrated by the welcome home that was extended Tuesday night to those who have returned.

The welcome home banquet and program was under the leadership of Trinity's pastor, the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, with arrangements by the servicemen's committee of the parish, a special committee from the Men's Club and the Ladies' Aid Society, cooperating to make it a notable success.

Trinity Lutheran made an outstanding contribution to the war effort, its roll of honor carrying 144 names. Of this number 103 have returned home. Four of the members—John Paul Brandt, William Geisel, Bruno Koditek and John C. Sharp—were killed in action, two during the invasion of Europe, one in Italy and one in the Philippines.

Most of the returned veterans were among the some 200 men that filled the large dining hall of the church Tuesday night. They were served with nothing less than a wonderful turkey dinner, listened to brief speeches of welcome and an address by Assemblyman John F. Wadlin, sang songs and were sung to, witnessed feats of magic by Fred L. Van Deusen and at the conclusion were presented with gifts as souvenirs of the occasion.

Memorial Service
At the opening, following singing of a verse of My Country, "Is of Thee, the large hall of the church stood at attention while the Rev. Mr. Gollnick conducted a brief memorial service for those who had given their lives for their country.

Speakers of the evening, as well as others, joined in praises for the Ladies' Aid members who, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edward Snyder, prepared and served the turkey dinner which followed. The turkey and all the fixings which accompanied it were super de luxe and the dinner was served with a speed and dexterity that was nothing short of professional.

Pastor's Welcome
Before introducing the speakers of the evening Pastor Gollnick assured the guests of honor of the great pleasure and happiness all felt at having them back home once more. "We have missed our boys," he said. Thanks were extended to the members of the congregation who had worked so hard.

Fred W. Ahlers, president of the church council, speaking on behalf of the church, spoke of the pleasure it gave all to honor the servicemen of the parish, "who, through the grace of God have been permitted to return to homes and loved ones." However, he said, "I hope an occasion such as this will never arise again." He concluded, "You have done a swell job, have been true to your country and have served it well. Now, be true to your church and to your God."

District Attorney Speaks
Saying that members of the church had been proud and happy when one of their members, a returned serviceman, had been appointed to a prominent office in the county, the Rev. Mr. Gollnick introduced District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn.

District Attorney Bruhn, speaking for the servicemen, conveyed their thanks, not only for the tribute that was being paid that evening, but also for the letters and gifts that had been sent to them while they were in service. Especially, he extended thanks for the prayers in their behalf that had been offered at the altar. He spoke of the duty all owed to their country and added, "part of that is the church." His comment on the dinner that had been served was, "It was one of the finest I have attended."

Oscar Lavatsch, another returned serviceman, and president of the congregation, voiced appreciation of the work of those who had made the evening such a success. He said, "It is nice to sit down on chairs to such a dinner—and not have to be thinking about K.P. afterward."

Address of Assemblyman Wadlin. Assemblyman John F. Wadlin, guest speaker of the evening said, "The church, and you, are to be congratulated on the splendid turnout tonight. I wish I could give you the message you are entitled to."

"It is my work to represent the people and to try to do for them what they want to have done," he said. "I know the people of the church and of the community would want me to be present tonight and to tell you how glad and happy we are to welcome you servicemen and women home."

Assemblyman Wadlin continued: "We are all deeply grateful for what you have done, the way you did it and your willingness to sacrifice for your country and your church. "We are glad to have you back, not only for your own sakes, but also for our sake. We need you for your courage, for your capacity for doing things, for your knowledge of war and what it entails. You have learned things that are invaluable to us."

deal with knotty problems and when they dispose of one they will get others to work on. Problems seemingly solved will return for further consideration.

In conclusion the Assemblyman said to the servicemen: "You people had faith enough in yourselves to win a war. We, at home, had faith you would do it. Now all of us must have faith that an organization of the United Nations can so govern itself that all the people of the world and all nations, will live better; spending their substance for building up, not destroying, to the end that we may have peace on earth and universal brotherly love."

Social Time
Following Assemblyman Wadlin's address, Fred L. VanDeusen entertained with feats of magic. He introduced a new trick, recently received from England. He showed a pane of glass in a frame and after piercing it with needles and the like, with the "greatest of ease," proceeded to fold it together like a piece of rubber. Of course, at the finish, the pane of glass was shown perfectly flat and intact.

During the evening Anthony J. Messina, choir leader, with Dan Bittner at the piano, led in chorus singing. The audience also enjoyed the singing of a number of selections given by a group of young men of the church.

The program closed with a presentation of fountain pens to the returned servicemen, while others were reserved for those who are still in service. Presentations were made by Ralph Finnegan and Howard Kelder, chairman and co-chairman of the parish servicemen's committee.

The memorable evening closed with singing "God be with you till we meet again," and the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Gollnick.
